Ohio Voters Approve 3 Of 4 State Issues

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes held voter approval today for his tax-free, economic expansion plans but his political prestige may have been tarnished in the process.

Rhodes, frequently called "Ohio's No. 1 salesman," won approval for three statewide proposals, including $290 million bond issue, in unofficial returns from Tuesday's primary election.

But he lost the hottest political issue—a Republican-backed plan to reapportion the Ohio House.

A coalition of Democrats and organized labor fought the proposed constitutional amendment—and won as more than a million voters, one fifth of those eligible, voted.

Unofficial returns on the four issues from all the state's 13,452 polling places showed:

For House reapportionment, 592,645 yes and 678,132 no.

For state industrial development assistance, 707,178 yes and 539,614 no.

The first-term governor, who criss-crossed the state in an appeal for all four issues, battled hardest for his bond issue. He took the one defeat calmly.

Reject Reapportionment Proposal

"Reapportionment," Rhodes said in a post-election statement, "has been and still is a problem for the General Assembly."

"I am grateful to the people of Ohio who have voted their approval of programs for jobs and progress."

The reapportionment problem now goes back to the legislature, where Democrats have an alternate proposal pending which they claim is more equitable.

The controversy arose when three federal judges ordered the House reapportioned in line with the U. S. Supreme Court's "one-man, one-vote" edict. The judges said if the legislature does not act this year, they will. The Ohio Senate is not affected.

A lameduck, Republican-dominated legislature passed the proposed constitutional amendment last December after the GOP lost several seats in the November elections. Republican now hold a slim majority in the House and are split 16-16 with Democrats in the Senate. That is not enough to get a constitutional amendment through the legislature.

The decisive vote against reapportionment came from the state's eight major urban centers, which rolled up more than half the total vote. Democrats feared losses in these areas from the plan's provision for electing representatives from districts within the counties, rather than countywide.

Most rural counties favored the plan. Only Hamilton County (Cincinnati), among the major urban counties, favored it.

In the top local issue, Cleveland voters rejected a proposed city income tax, making Cleveland the only one of the 10 biggest Ohio cities still without such a tax. In Dayton, voters rejected city water fluroidation.

New Plan Scheduled On Reapportionment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Defeat of the reapportionment amendment by Ohio voters had varying effects on members of the legislature who now must attempt to devise another plan.

Democrats rejoiced at the outcome and expressed confidence the current legislature can work out another proposal in time for the November election and before a federal court does the job.

Republicans generally agreed that another effort would be made, but House Speaker Roger W. Cloud, R-Logan, said "It is difficult in any session to get a three-fifths majority."

Three-fifths of the members of each house must approve before a constitutional amendment proposal can be placed on the statewide ballot.

The plan rejected Tuesday was approved by a special session of the Republican-controlled 105th General Assembly. The GOP had three-fifths majorities at that sessions but in the current one outman Democrats only 75-62 in the House and are equally divided 16-16 with them in the Senate.

The lawmakers returned Tuesday night for their 16th week of work and took action on a handful of bills. Only one drew controversy in the Senate but passed 23-8 after a flurry of debate.

Willshaw, Owen Nominated For Mayor

Daugherty's Victor Again At Wellsville

Mayor William Daugherty, seeking a third consecutive term, easily outdistanced Mrs. Mary Rahter, his opponent in the Democratic ticket, in Tuesday's primary election at Wellsville, according to complete but unofficial returns.

On the Republican ticket, Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara won by a 41-vote margin over incumbent Atty. William Bush in the solicitor's race. O'Hara is assured of the office as the Democrats have no candidate in the November general election.

Those two contests drew the major interest in yesterday's balloting. Daugherty will be opposed by William S. Robinson, a former safety - service director, in the general election. Robinson was unopposed on the Republican ballot.

Mrs. Rahter is now serving as Council president. She was defeated once previously as a Democratic mayoralty candidate on the primary ballot.

The vote was:

Daugherty	881
Mrs. Rahter	561

Here is the count in the solicitor's race:

Bush	203
O'Hara	244

Allen C. Baldwin, 1708 Maple Ave., the city party chairman, polled 925 votes for Council president. He was unopposed. William R. Stroble, 714 Aten Ave. and a former councilman, polled 862 votes for treasurer. He also was unopposed.

Nominated as candidates for the three council-at-large posts are John E. Call, 1150 Riverside Ave.; George T. Lawton, Council President George E. Willshaw, Republican, and Robert Owen, Democrat, a former safety - service director, will run against each other in the general election Nov. 2, seeking to become East Liverpool's mayor next Jan. 1.

Willshaw won by a margin of 653 votes over William T. Kind, former councilman and a veteran coal dealer, according to complete but unofficial returns from the primaries Tuesday.

OWEN, WINNING by a margin of 235 over his closest opponent in a four-man race, defeated Robert L. Curran of Highland Colony, an auto salesman making his first political bid; Lawrence A. (Larry) Finlay of Sophia St., potter and former market operator, and Albert R. Sayre of Cleveland Ave., a mill craneman and former prizefighter.

The two veteran political figures will campaign to replace Mayor Merrill D. Hall, Republican, who did not run for a second term. Hall was the victor in the 1963 election over Frank P. Duffy, Democrat.

Duffy had defeated the then incumbent, Bert H. Goodballet, Democrat, in the May 1963 primaries.

Complete returns on the Republican mayoralty race showed:

Willshaw	1,113
Kind	460

Owen	705
Curran	470
Finlay	391
Sayre	320

Willshaw, a resident of Idaho Ave., Pleasant Heights, is in his first term as Council president. He previously served four terms as an at-large member of Council. He is a district supervisor for the Standard Oil Co.

OAS Draws Up Agreement

Dominican Isle Truce Plan Set

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Organization of American States peace commission hammered together a final truce agreement today after conferring with both sides in the civil war.

Despite a cease-fire, U.S. Marines continued to enlarge the international zone for refugees. They moved up four blocks to take in the embassies of El Salvador, Guatemala and Ecuador.

OAS Commission Chairman Richardo M. Colombo of Argentina told reporters the truce agreement covered these points:

—Safe conduct for all political refugees in foreign embassies.

—Evacuation of all refugees of other nations wishing to leave the country.

—The distribution of food to all factions.

The Marines' advance brought a rebel protest.

Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, military leader of the revolt, charged that the United States had violated the demorcation line established with the cease-fire agreement reached several days ago. He said a massacre might result.

OAS officials expressed concern over the situation, and the peace mission hastily arranged the 20-mile trip to the San Isidro air base to discuss the situation with the junta.

Colombo said the agreement had been endorsed by both sides.

A U.S. spokesman announced earlier that the Marines had extended their lines without opposition after both the junta and the rebel leaders agreed to the move.

Sporadic shooting occurred in Santo Domingo again Tuesday night after one of the quietest days since the revolt began 11 days ago. No U.S. casualties were reported.

Family Flees Home Fire In Lisbon Area

LISBON — Volunteer firemen had a busy day Tuesday, answering three alarms within six hours.

A family of four had its home gutted and lost all household belongings at 6 p.m. when fire swept a five - room, two - story home on Grant St. in Jordonville, just south of here.

Firemen said the blaze started in the rear of the home, near a trash burner. No estimate of

Brenda Kernaich Drowns After Diving For Oar

A search continued today in the Ohio River for the body of an 18-year-old East Liverpool girl who drowned about 2:30 p. m. Tuesday when she leaped into the water to retrieve an oar that fell from a boat she was rowing.

Police said she lost her life while rowing in the Ohio off Little England with two friends, Mrs. Dixie Lee Sell, 22, and Penny Mikeals, 16 both of 1669 Ohio Ave.

Brenda's two companions told officers she was rowing the boat when an oar came loose from the lock and dropped into the water. Clad in a brown bathing suit, she dived into the water, retrieved the oar and pushed it toward the boat, they said.

Noticing Brenda appeared to be in trouble, the two girls in the boat began to shout for help. They threw a rope to the girl, but the swift current pulled her away from the boat and she went under the surface, they said.

The two girls shouted to their father, Max Mikeals, and a brother, Gene Paul Mikeals, who were on shore.

The father told officers he believed at first the two girls "were acting the fool." When he realized that the shouts were not a joke, Gene Mikeals attempted to swim to the boat, but found the current too swift and turned back.

Mrs. Lillian Kernaich, mother of the victim, went to the shore and said she intended to swim to the boat, but was dissuaded by Mikeals because of the current, officers said.

Police first received the report of the tragedy at 2:25 in

The county's voters also favored three of four proposed amendments to the Ohio Constitution, with only the controversial Issue No. 3 on legislative reapportionment failing to win a majority.

The returns showed a margin of 4,202 in favor of renewal of the levy of sixty - five hundredths of a mill for operation of the County Home.

Brenda Kernaich Drowns After Diving For Oar

A search continued today in the Ohio River for the body of an 18-year-old East Liverpool girl who drowned about 2:30 p. m. Tuesday when she leaped into the water to retrieve an oar that fell from a boat she was rowing.

Police said she lost her life while rowing in the Ohio off Little England with two friends, Mrs. Dixie Lee Sell, 22, and Penny Mikeals, 16 both of 1669 Ohio Ave.

Brenda's two companions told officers she was rowing the boat when an oar came loose from the lock and dropped into the water. Clad in a brown bathing suit, she dived into the water, retrieved the oar and pushed it toward the boat, they said.

Noticing Brenda appeared to be in trouble, the two girls in the boat began to shout for help. They threw a rope to the girl, but the swift current pulled her away from the boat and she went under the surface, they said.

The two girls shouted to their father, Max Mikeals, and a brother, Gene Paul Mikeals, who were on shore.

The father told officers he believed at first the two girls "were acting the fool." When he realized that the shouts were not a joke, Gene Mikeals attempted to swim to the boat, but found the current too swift and turned back.

Mrs. Lillian Kernaich, mother of the victim, went to the shore and said she intended to swim to the boat, but was dissuaded by Mikeals because of the current, officers said.

The 1.7-mill street lighting levy provides funds for the city's lighting system.

The count was:

Against the levy	504

The nine - tenths police levy provides for the salaries of regular personnel.

The vote was:

For the levy	1,098

Levies Approved On Home, School

Levies to help finance operation of the County Home near Lisbon and the Retarded Children's School at Elkton were renewed by wide margins by Columbiana County voters at special elections Tuesday, according to complete but unofficial returns from the 165 precincts.

The county's voters also favored three of four proposed amendments to the Ohio Constitution, with only the controversial Issue No. 3 on legislative reapportionment failing to win a majority.

The returns showed a margin of 4,202 in favor of renewal of the levy of sixty - five hundredths of a mill for operation of the County Home.

The tabulation is:

For the levy	9,674
Against levy	5,472

The levy of two - tenths of a mill for support of the Retarded Children's School won a margin of 7,441. The tabulation shows:

For the levy	11,467
Against levy	4,026

Both renewals are for five years. The two - tenths mill proposition provides about $45,000 a year for operation of the school at Elkton. Commissioners placed the issue on the ballot at the suggestion of Robert Bycroft, head of the County Welfare Department.

The County Home levy will produce approximately $125,000

City Workers End Picketing On Pay Rates

City employes, at a mass meeting Tuesday night at Central Fire Station, voted to call off their picketing of City Hall, at least until after a special Council meeting Thursday night in which legislation is scheduled for presentation granting a 5 per cent wage increase to most of the workers.

The employes also agreed to send letters to each member of Council declaring that they are not satisfied with the amount of the raise and the fact that Council said not all workers will be included.

a telephoned report that "three girls were in trouble in a boat on the river." Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolmen Orin C. Smith and Jerry Adkins hurried to investigate.

On arrival, they found Fireman Frank Butler, who told of Brenda's drowning.

Boots Webber of Little England and an unidentified man had gone to the aid of the two girls in the boat, officers said. Dragging operations were started to recover the body.

East Liverpool firemen received the first report of the drowning at 2:33. Asst. Chief James Pelley received a telephoned report from a man who said three persons in a boat "appeared to be in trouble" on the river near the West Virginia shore. Pelley asked if he could hear shouts or screams, but the man said the trio was too far away.

Pelley telephoned the police department and asked officers to have the East End cruiser verify that the report was bona fide. Then he received another telephone call from a woman reporting the same incident on the river. The police department confirmed the authenticity of the call about the same time.

Firemen dispatched their emergency truck, with a boat in tow. The boat was launched from the Broadway wharf because the firemen did not know the exact location of the emergency and did not know if a launching site would be available at another spot. Meanwhile, Pelley and Firemen Joe Yeager drove to Chester and attempted to get close to the scene of the tragedy from the West Virginia side.

Unable to drive beyond a point near the T. K. Roofing Co., far downstream from the site of the drowning, they retraced their route and drove to Little England. Firemen remained at the site to help in the recovery operations.

BEVERLY KERNAICH

Pelley commented that firemen were delayed in dispatching the emergency truck and the boat from the station because two voting precincts were set up in the building yesterday.

Firemen were required to move two other trucks out of the station in order to clear the way for the emergency truck, then pull the boat outside by hand to hitch it onto the emergency truck, he explained.

Skin - divers and city Civil Defense workers joined in the search for the body. The CD unit used an amphibious DUKW of World War II vintage.

Owen also carried all four wards against his three opponents.

The First Ward gave Owen 235, Finlay, 93, Curran, 112, and Sayre, 109. In the Second Ward, Owen had 209, Finlay, 115, Curran, 137, and Sayre 89. The Third Ward showed 113 for Owen, 78 for Finlay, 93 for Curran and 60 for Sayre. In the Fourth Ward, the count was: Owen, 148, Finlay, 105, Curran, 128, and Sayre, 62.

They also extinguished a grass fire in the rear of the Lisbon Hotel at 12:25 p.m., which reportedly started from a trash burner in the rear of the Carl Co.

United Local Issue Loses

HANOVERTON — A proposed $630,000 bond issue for a United Local School building project, turn down by 42 votes in November, again was rejected by a 42-vote margin in Tuesday's primary election according to complete but unofficial returns.

The vote was:

A 60 per cent majority was required for passage of the bond issue, which would have provided funds for construction of an addition to the high school and a bus garage.

Lisbon Drive To Open

LISBON — Volunteer firemen, aided by several civic organizations, will launch a drive tonight at 6:30 to collect approximately $7,000 still needed to purchase a 1963 ambulance for $8,050. The canvass is slated in Lisbon and Center Township and part of Elkrun Township.

It's Really Not That Simple

It would be ideal if all the United States needed to do in Santo Domingo was seal off the "rebels" and announce that Communism had been blocked at one more point on the globe.

It's really not that simple.

It hasn't been that simple in Germany, Korea and Viet Nam. It wasn't that simple in China.

The United States must maintain huge and extensive garrisons to make certain that Communists do not take shrewd advantage of the departure of U.S. troops.

There are Communists in the Dominican Republic.

Communists turn up at every trouble spot on the troubled earth. But it is not necessarily Communists who cause all trouble. That is giving them far too much credit.

There was trouble before Communism.

There were rebels, insurrectionists and revolts before there were professional Communist agents of subversion to make the most out of every incident of civil strife and popular dissatisfaction with governments.

In Latin America, moreover, there were the ever-present militarists and their loyal troops, setting up and knocking down political leadership at will.

More to be feared than the prospect of dealing with Fidel Castro's Communists in the Dominican Republic is the prospect of coming to terms with the Dominican generals who command the local troops. It was their idea to get rid of Juan Bosch, the republic's first constitutionally elected president. Popular resentment of their high-handedness fed the flames of revolt. If Bosch is restored to the presidency, what will the generals do?

The trick of military occupation, as every garrison state has learned, is how to get out with honor and a whole skin.

Getting in is easy. Getting out is fast-shuffle diplomacy, to make sure the strong man left in charge will be a 100 per cent pure, certified and internationally accredited statesmen — something better than the ordinary run in the Free World bastions presently garrisoned by U.S. troops.

New Idea

Everyone has his own idea about Lyndon B. Johnson's reasons for adopting a tough line in foreign relations.

Aside from the President's reasons for acting tough are the probable consequences. All of a sudden, it is probably that two-bit bully-boys who have been in the habit of kicking around the United States, secure in the supposition that nothing would happen to them, are thinking of changing the habit.

They cannot be sure the United States will grin and bear it, after demanding an apology and making another bristling gesture. The next time, the United States might materialize in the form of paratroopers, war planes, marines and offshore naval maneuvers.

It's something to think about. It's a new idea.

Call It Affluent Joblessness

The story has been told often. This is only the beginning of the telling. The climax will be reached this summer.

Growers of farm produce in many parts of the country are having trouble finding workers to handle crops. Our unemployed aren't interested.

Currently, strawberry growers in California are whistling in vain for people to harvest the 1965 crop.

Later this year, vegetable growers and fruit farmers will be unable to find enough hired hands to move their crops to market.

This will happen in the face of large-scale unemployment.

Congress barred imported agricultural labor last Dec. 31, but there has been no rush to take the jobs vacated by this cheap-labor group.

Members of the group were brought here in the first place because native Americans were unwilling to work for the wages the importees were glad to get.

Importees were barred by Congress, in the hope of spreading employment among native Americans.

But even worse than the absence of a rush by native Americans, attempts to fill the vacuum with public pressure have been of little avail. Americans won't work for low wages.

Call it "affluent joblessness." Or make up a better name. What it amounts to is unwillingness to work at productive labor for the wages agricultural producers are willing to pay.

This is not peculiar to agriculture, but it is dramatized by the plight of produce growers unable to attract native labor.

One wonders if even twice or three times the wages offered would attract more than a handful of urban-oriented Americans to the back-breaking agricultural toil.

Tragedy punctuated the news locally Tuesday, with Columbiana County recording its ninth traffic fatality of the year, a drowning in the Ohio River and forest and brush fires sweeping an extensive acreage.

It all adds up to the need for extra care and precaution. Carelessness can mean only trouble and heartache.

With warm weather back, special emphasis should be placed on water safety. The dangers are many, with swimming and boating attracting more and more to rivers and lakes.

Dog Nuisance

By Truman Twill

This is the time of year when even dog softies have doubts about dogs.

Should they be imposed on people who consider them a nuisance?

How often are dogs a nuisance, as a matter of fact?

They're a nuisance when they damage property that does not belong to their owners.

They're a nuisance when they are tied outside and disturb the composure and interrupt the sleep of human beings with their incessant barking.

They're a nuisance when they run at large in populated places and terrify people afraid of dogs.

They're a nuisance when they perform their bodily functions on property where they are not welcome.

The list could be longer, but this highlights the idea that dogs are a nuisance whenever they infringe on the rights of people who are not their owners.

THERE IS more of this infringing than dog softies like to think about. But maybe we'd better think about it, for the sake of the dogs we love.

We are giving them a bad name when we let them be nuisances.

If we don't keep marauding dogs from wrecking other people's property, barking dogs from keeping other people awake, dogs on the loose from ruining shrubbery and lawns and vicious dogs from attacking other dogs and biting people, public law will do what we failed to do as private persons.

Public law finally banned other animals from populated neighborhoods. Goats, cows, horses and eventually chickens were ruled out by legislation.

Dogs aren't untouchable, despite some dog owners who talk as though dogs should be given the status of India's sacred cows.

NO ONE has a right to keep a dog that is a nuisance in a neighborhood.

No one has a right to impose his own tolerance for dogs on others who do not share his tolerance.

No one has a right to be a party to a situation that causes destruction and annoyance to the property and sensibilities of others, whether it is ownership of a dog, a tiger, an elephant, or a python.

It never should be necessary to call the police, the dog warden, the sheriff, or the Humane Society to cope with problems arising out of nuisances caused by dogs. If it is necessary often enough, watch out.

Dogs could be outlawed in all populated places — and the dog softies wouldn't like that. We certainly wouldn't, would we?

Another Boston Party—Fish This Time

By Victor Riesel

BOSTON

This story took some time to unravel. But here is the report of a successful Soviet operation which obtained American dollars to pay for Russian ships which now compete with ours and are wiping out thousands of U.S. jobs.

Victor Riesel

It all begins on Pier 3 at Boston, not too far from the site of an historic tea party. On that dock recently some Longshoremen, fishermen and seafarers held a Boston fish party. Unlike the olden event, the waterfront workers did not dump the fish into the sea.

They simply refused to unload tons of it from the SS American Contractor when they were told by its crew that the cargo was in containers marked with Cryllic. This was evidence that the tonnage was a Soviet product.

That cargo wandered our coastal waters from Boston to New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and finally to Norfolk. Then the International Longshoremen's president, Ted Gleason, said that "no docker would touch it anywhere from Maine to Texas." So the shipment went back to its Dutch port of origin.

NOW THE LONGSHOREMEN and their allies have learned that the Soviets have sold another 10,000 tons of processed fish to German brokers—who await their chance to sell it in the U.S.

So a trans-Atlantic network—sort of an early warning system—now has been set up by Red Moran, ILA International vice president and Boston waterfront leader. He's a gruff Voltaire with a hatred for Russian totalitarianism and a distaste for doing business with allies of the Viet Cong.

The waterfront men now have been joined by an influential ally, Gov. John Volpe, who has ordered the State Division of Marine Fisheries to investigate the impact of the U.S.S.R.'s floating factories now operating off the New England coasts.

His people already have learned that some of the Soviet trawlers, competing with American fishermen from Halifax to Gloucester and Fall River, were built in Hamburg shipyards.

Part of the Moscow payment for these craft is in a bartar deal. The Soviets give the Germans the frozen and processed fish caught off our coasts in part payment. The shipyard companies sell the fish to West German merchants.

THEY, IN TURN, sell the cod—which is used for making fish sticks, seafood dinners and fish soups—to American firms.

This has angered the Massachusetts governor.

"We are very concerned about our fishing industry," he said when we talked the other day. "It has declined in Gloucester, for example, from 85 trawlers to 23. I estimate this means a permanent loss of 3,000 fishermen's jobs.

"These are not large trawler companies. They're privately owned and have a tough time as it is. There are no trawlers running out of Boston. And we used to have a large fleet.

"We can't compete with the slave wages on the Soviets' floating factories, which are subsidized by their government. So we're investigating and will seek some way to compete with the Communist products."

HARDEST HIT is the Atlantic Fishermen's Union, an affiliate of Paul Hall's Seafarers' International Union.

"It doesn't make sense for Americans to purchase this fish so that Russians will have more money to buy equipment for shipment to South Viet Nam to be used against American soldiers in action," was the bitter view of Jim Ackert, Atlantic Fishermen's Union leader.

"There are 10,000 metric tons more of this Russian - processed cod over in Germany right now waiting for reshipment."

He called on the nation's housewives to boycott the Russian fish. After the original story broke in this column and the news spread along the coast, many housewives telephoned their assurances they would not buy the Soviet product.

"A lot of them identified themselves as mothers of men now engaged in the hot war in Viet Nam," Ackert disclosed. "One of them cried. She agreed with my contention that buying this fish from behind the Iron Curtain underwrites the war in which our men are being killed on the other side of the world."

It does appear that the men of the Boston fish party and the folk of the Boston tea party do have much in common.

Monumental Responsibility

WASHINGTON

No one can escape asking himself the question — where and what next? — after President Johnson's explanations for using troops in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

The United States is not only committed to stopping any Communist takeover in Latin America but worldwide. And Johnson has even said this country will oppose any attempt by one country to conquer another.

There are two good reasons for the United States to be mixed up in more Viet Nams and Dominican Republics if this country follows Johnson's policy indefinitely.

1. It is unrealistic to think some non-Communist nation won't attack sooner or later a non-Communist neighbor.

2. Communism is not static but active. It is a crusading ideology. Thus, even though avoiding all-out war, it will try to progress by guerrilla wars, subversions, revolutions or other devices.

A few Johnson statements illuminate his policy:

"We will always oppose the effort of one nation to conquer another. We will do this because our own security is at stake . . . We don't propose to sit here in our rocking chair . . . and let Communists set up any government in the Western Hemisphere." He has said the same about stopping communism anywhere.

Not all nations, particularly in Latin America, like Johnson's tactics. But ironically it was the Soviet Union, condemned by the United Nations for crushing the Hungarian revolt in 1956, which has charged the United States with violating the charters of the United Nations and the Organization of American States by sending troops into the Dominican Republic. The United States is a member of both.

The U.N. charter says "all members shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state."

The OAS charter says "the territory of a state is inviolable; it may not be the object, even temporarily, of military occupation or of other measures of force taken by another state, directly or indirectly."

Johnson's numerous explanations for sending troops into the Dominican Republic said they were sent to save American lives, later said they intended to stop a Communist takeover, but never said they were asked in by a recognized government.

At this moment in history the United States is in the lucky condition of enjoying two luxuries: power and time. It has overwhelming nuclear power and Red China, with none, is trying to build its own.

World Challenge

Some Aren't Capable Of Governing Selves

The state of anarchy in Santo Domingo, which caused the United States to send its troops to the island to protect the lives of Americans and other foreigners, points up one of the most serious challenges that faces the world — how to deal with countries that are not yet capable of governing themselves. Whether it's Viet Nam or the Congo or basic problem is the same.

David Lawrence

Up to now homage has been paid to the concept of self-determination and the independence of peoples, but, while this is a commendable theory, inability to apply it effectively has turned out in practice to be detrimental to human welfare and progress in many areas of the globe.

The idea of self-determination received its biggest impetus in the peace pronouncements that came out of World War I, but the formula of trusteeships for backward areas which was sponsored by the League of Nations didn't last very long. Political pressures from within the country as well as from outside eventually brought about the withdrawal of all foreign troops and civilian officials. The principle nevertheless still affords the only constructive solution to the dilemma.

THE UNITED NATIONS, in a sense, has adopted the same approach through its system of peace-keeping operations in Africa and in the Middle East. What really is lacking is a harmonizing of objectives and a sincerity of purpose on the part of the larger nations which are called upon to supervise the evolution of the smaller states. Certainly if the United Nations itself were not torn asunder by the political conflicts between East and West and were not imperilled by the machinations of some of the Communist stooges among the smaller countries, there would be a different story to tell today. It's the existence of the "cold war" which is preventing the emerging nations from achieving their true independence and freedom.

The only hope, so far as troubles in this hemisphere are concerned, lies in strengthening the Organization of American States. The Communists pay no attention either to the Monroe Doctrine or to the Organization of American States, and carry on their infiltrating tactics and divisive operations everywhere. Once the Latin - American countries are united and recognize realistically that their own survival is at stake, the chances of diminishing the capacity of the Communists to make mischief will be materially improved.

MANY WORTHY resolutions have been adopted in the past by the Organization of American States which have denounced Communism and outside interference, but the Communists in turn have worked up considerable antagonism to the United States in all of Latin America by accusing this country of imperialistic designs.

Indeed, the landing of U.S. Marines and troops in the Dominican Republic now will be so characterized again and again in schools and colleges and in other centers where the Communists have an influence. Yet there was no other course left to the United States government, which feels an obligation under international law to protect not only the lives of its own citizens but those of other countries as well in order that no provocation shall be given for European intervention in the affairs of the countries of this hemisphere.

Collective action by the nations of the Western Hemisphere wishes this any more fervently than does the United States.

It would have been impossible to convene a meeting of the OAS and set up operations in time to prevent American citizens from being injured in Santo Domingo. Action had to be taken quickly, and the formulation of an appropriate plan left to calmer moments.

THERE IS NEED for the adoption now of a comprehensive project that would call for instantaneous intervention by the armed forces of a group of countries of the Organization of American States whenever a crisis develops anywhere in which the lives of foreigners are endangered.

The original Monroe Doctrine has been broadened and now is legalized by the U.N. Charter as a regional arrangement that permits the countries of this hemisphere to take care of their own problems. The episode in the Dominican Republic, however, could have a salutary outcome by developing a model for the handling of similar disturbances in the smaller countries throughout the world.

Foreign aid—not only financial and economic but military as well—can save the lives of many of the peoples in the weaker countries which are today the potential victims of revolutions started by Communists and other enemies of democracy and freedom. An international trusteeship for limited periods could prove to be the best formula for the protection of the smaller nations.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

My name is Loren Hooker and I am a senior at East Liverpool High School.

It has come to my attention that our community has become very concerned about the problems of teen-agers. This letter is written to any teen-ager who may read it and to any adult who really cares about young people.

I am a teen-ager myself. The reason I am writing this is the fact that I have found the answer to my young problems.

The organization which helped me find this answer is Youth For Christ of Columbiana County. I will always love this organization because it has led me to the person who changed my mixed-up life into one of peace and contentment.

That person is Jesus Christ. He is the message that Columbiana Youth For Christ has to give to our youth (my friends). You don't make a basketball star just by giving him a basketball. The same holds true in life.

To be a real service to society the teen-ager needs a change of heart. Jesus Christ is the answer to all of life's problems and frustrations. That includes those of the teen-ager.

Is Youth For Christ successful in helping our youth? Jesus Christ through this organization has helped me to see that my life is worth something to God and that I will live with Him forever. Youth For Christ works within the schools in the form of clubs which are brought together in all-county rallies at least twice a month. It reached me and made my life a joy rather than a failure. I believe that this is the answer to the teen-age problem of East Liverpool.

It's Really Not That Simple

It would be ideal if all the United States needed to do in Santo Domingo was seal off the "rebels" and announce that Communism had been blocked at one more point on the globe.

It's really not that simple.

It hasn't been that simple in Germany, Korea and Viet Nam. It wasn't that simple in China.

The United States must maintain huge and extensive garrisons to make certain that Communists do not take shrewd advantage of the departure of U.S. troops.

There are Communists in the Dominican Republic.

Communists turn up at every trouble spot on the troubled earth. But it is not necessarily Communists who cause all trouble. That is giving them far too much credit.

There was trouble before Communism.

There were rebels, insurrectionists and revolts before there were professional Communist agents of subversion to make the most out of every incident of civil strife and popular dissatisfaction with governments.

In Latin America, moreover, there were the ever-present militarists and their loyal troops, setting up and knocking down political leadership at will.

More to be feared than the prospect of dealing with Fidel Castro's Communists in the Dominican Republic is the prospect of coming to terms with the Dominican generals who command the local troops. It was their idea to get rid of Juan Bosch, the republic's first constitutionally elected president. Popular resentment of their high-handedness fed the flames of revolt. If Bosch is restored to the presidency, what will the generals do?

The trick of military occupation, as every garrison state has learned, is how to get out with honor and a whole skin.

Getting in is easy. Getting out is fast-shuffle diplomacy, to make sure the strong man left in charge will be a 100 per cent pure, certified and internationally accredited statesmen — something better than the ordinary run in the Free World bastions presently garrisoned by U.S. troops.

New Idea

Everyone has his own idea about Lyndon B. Johnson's reasons for adopting a tough line in foreign relations.

Aside from the President's reasons for acting tough are the probable consequences. All of a sudden, it is probably that two-bit bully-boys who have been in the habit of kicking around the United States, secure in the supposition that nothing would happen to them, are thinking of changing the habit.

They cannot be sure the United States will grin and bear it, after demanding an apology and making another bristling gesture. The next time, the United States might materialize in the form of paratroopers, war planes, marines and offshore naval maneuvers.

It's something to think about. It's a new idea.

Call It Affluent Joblessness

The story has been told often. This is only the beginning of the telling. The climax will be reached this summer.

Growers of farm produce in many parts of the country are having trouble finding workers to handle crops. Our unemployed aren't interested.

Currently, strawberry growers in California are whistling in vain for people to harvest the 1965 crop.

Later this year, vegetable growers and fruit farmers will be unable to find enough hired hands to move their crops to market.

This will happen in the face of large-scale unemployment.

Congress barred imported agricultural labor last Dec. 31, but there has been no rush to take the jobs vacated by this cheap-labor group.

Members of the group were brought here in the first place because native Americans were unwilling to work for the wages the importees were glad to get.

Importees were barred by Congress, in the hope of spreading employment among native Americans.

But even worse than the absence of a rush by native Americans, attempts to fill the vacuum with public pressure have been of little avail. Americans won't work for low wages.

Call it "affluent joblessness." Or make up a better name. What it amounts to is unwillingness to work at productive labor for the wages agricultural producers are willing to pay.

David Lawrence

Up to now homage has been paid to the concept of self-determination and the independence of peoples, but, while this is a commendable theory, inability to apply it effectively has turned out in practice to be detrimental to human welfare and progress in many areas of the globe.

The idea of self-determination received its biggest impetus in the peace pronouncements that came out of World War I, but the formula of trusteeships for backward areas which was sponsored by the League of Nations didn't last very long. Political pressures from within the country as well as from outside eventually brought about the withdrawal of all foreign troops and civilian officials. The principle nevertheless still affords the only constructive solution to the dilemma.

THE UNITED NATIONS, in a sense, has adopted the same approach through its system of peace-keeping operations in Africa and in the Middle East. What really is lacking is a harmonizing of objectives and a sincerity of purpose on the part of the larger nations which are called upon to supervise the evolution of the smaller states. Certainly if the United Nations itself were not torn asunder by the political conflicts between East and West and were not imperilled by the machinations of some of the Communist stooges among the smaller countries, there would be a different story to tell today. It's the existence of the "cold war" which is preventing the emerging nations from achieving their true independence and freedom.

The only hope, so far as troubles in this hemisphere are concerned, lies in strengthening the Organization of American States. The Communists pay no attention either to the Monroe Doctrine or to the Organization of American States, and carry on their infiltrating tactics and divisive operations everywhere. Once the Latin - American countries are united and recognize realistically that their own survival is at stake, the chances of diminishing the capacity of the Communists to make mischief will be materially improved.

MANY WORTHY resolutions have been adopted in the past by the Organization of American States which have denounced Communism and outside interference, but the Communists in turn have worked up considerable antagonism to the United States in all of Latin America by accusing this country of imperialistic designs.

Indeed, the landing of U.S. Marines and troops in the Dominican Republic now will be so characterized again and again in schools and colleges and in other centers where the Communists have an influence. Yet there was no other course left to the United States government, which feels an obligation under international law to protect not only the lives of its own citizens but those of other countries as well in order that no provocation shall be given for European intervention in the affairs of the countries of this hemisphere.

Collective action by the nations of the Western Hemisphere wishes this any more fervently than does the United States.

It would have been impossible to convene a meeting of the OAS and set up operations in time to prevent American citizens from being injured in Santo Domingo. Action had to be taken quickly, and the formulation of an appropriate plan left to calmer moments.

THERE IS NEED for the adoption now of a comprehensive project that would call for instantaneous intervention by the armed forces of a group of countries of the Organization of American States whenever a crisis develops anywhere in which the lives of foreigners are endangered.

The original Monroe Doctrine has been broadened and now is legalized by the U.N. Charter as a regional arrangement that permits the countries of this hemisphere to take care of their own problems. The episode in the Dominican Republic, however, could have a salutary outcome by developing a model for the handling of similar disturbances in the smaller countries throughout the world.

Foreign aid—not only financial and economic but military as well—can save the lives of many of the peoples in the weaker countries which are today the potential victims of revolutions started by Communists and other enemies of democracy and freedom. An international trusteeship for limited periods could prove to be the best formula for the protection of the smaller nations.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

My name is Loren Hooker and I am a senior at East Liverpool High School.

It has come to my attention that our community has become very concerned about the problems of teen-agers. This letter is written to any teen-ager who may read it and to any adult who really cares about young people.

I am a teen-ager myself. The reason I am writing this is the fact that I have found the answer to my young problems.

The organization which helped me find this answer is Youth For Christ of Columbiana County. I will always love this organization because it has led me to the person who changed my mixed-up life into one of peace and contentment.

That person is Jesus Christ. He is the message that Columbiana Youth For Christ has to give to our youth (my friends). You don't make a basketball star just by giving him a basketball. The same holds true in life.

To be a real service to society the teen-ager needs a change of heart. Jesus Christ is the answer to all of life's problems and frustrations. That includes those of the teen-ager.

Is Youth For Christ successful in helping our youth? Jesus Christ through this organization has helped me to see that my life is worth something to God and that I will live with Him forever. Youth For Christ works within the schools in the form of clubs which are brought together in all-county rallies at least twice a month. It reached me and made my life a joy rather than a failure. I believe that this is the answer to the teen-age problem of East Liverpool.

2,300 More Due Soon

1,200 More GIs Flown Into Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — An armada of transport planes landed 1,200 U.S. paratroopers in South Viet Nam today. They are the first American Army ground combat units sent to fight the Communist Viet Cong.

Another 2,300 men of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were expected from Okinawa soon, probably this week.

Half of the 1,200 paratroopers were landed at the Bien Hoa air base 15 miles northeast of Saigon. The rest came in at the Vung Tau airstrip on the South China sea 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

U.S. Army forces already in Viet Nam are here as advisers to the South Vietnamese forces and as training personnel. The paratroopers are expected to have the same assignment that the U.S. Marines now have at the Da Nang air base and Phu Bai, 350 miles north of Saigon — defense in depth of the key installations with a liberal sprinkling of offensive operations against the Viet Cong thrown in.

Vung Tau may be destined to become a major buildup area for U.S. troops, similar to Da Nang. As the new arrivals took up position there, Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers were streaking down on suspected Viet Cong positions about five miles away, pouring cannon and rocket fire into the ground. Most of the troopers were too busy to notice, although the cannon shots were clearly audible.

The brigade's commander, Brig. Gen. Ellis Williamson, 47, of Raleigh N.C. was among the first men off the planes at Bien Hoa.

"Our morale is sky high," he said. "We have been prepared for this for some time."

In the air war, U.S. Air Force B57 Canberra jet bombers struck military convoys and an important military base in North Viet Nam Tuesday night.

A pair of Navy A4 Skyhawks from the carrier Midway struck at a pair of barges 90 miles south of Hanoi. They hit the barges with 50mm cannon fire and set them adrift, a Navy spokesman said.

All the planes returned safely, the spokesmen said.

Earlier Tuesday, 113 planes raided military barracks at Vinh Linh and an ammunition depot at Xom Rung, and all returned safely, U.S. spokesmen said.

The South Vietnamese government has decided to shut down the French cultural broadcasting station in retaliation against French President Charles de Gaulle's campaign to neutralize Viet Nam, realiable sources said today.

The Vietnamese were also hitting back for France's decision to send an observer instead of its foreign minister to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization talks on Viet Nam in London, the sources reported.

Certificates Awarded For Course

Sixteen women have received certificates after completing a 150-hour special training course for sales personnel conducted under the Federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

Others receiving certificates were Kathleen Barker, Linda Brown, Carol Dillard, Margaret Doughty, Lois Hasala, Margaret Jackson, Mary Kozora, Gerry Lonkert, Laurel Thelma Foley and Jacqueline Molly Stone, Alice Weldon, Persohn, Patricia Prince, Maley.

The Ohio State Employment Service office tested, screened and selected the women for training after a survey showed a need for trained sales people in the area, Charles B. Boso, OSES manager, said.

Although completion of the course does not guarantee placement, the OSES will attempt to develop job openings for the qualified trainees, Boso said.

However, trained sales personnel are expected to be in demand when Hill's Plaza at Calcutta is completed late this summer, the OSES said.

The Board of Education was responsible for the training, with Walrath assisting Supt. Paul H. Blair, training facility officer, in coordinating the activities.

The course started March 29 and included techniques of selling merchandise to customers, emphasizing the principal selling points of the article, color coordination and proper style garment for individual selection.

There also was instruction in displaying merchandise to advantage, writing up sales slips, balancing cash and keeping accurate records.

Future training courses are being discussed and another program may be under way by mid-summer.

Driver Fined And Lectured For Speeding

William A. Blackhurst, 423 Grant St., was fined $20 and costs and given a lecture today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone on Dresden Ave. early Saturday.

The court lectured Blackhurst particularly on the fact he did not appear for a scheduled hearing Monday morning. Because of his non-appearance, the court issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

The judge said he "will not tolerate defendants showing contempt for the court." He told Blackhurst the "officer was good enough to release you to appear and you did not come to court as you had been told."

Patrolman Ronald Brookes told the court he pursued Blackhurst several blocks before halting him.

The court today ordered dismissal of an affidavit against Edward E. Buckley, 520 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, who was cited early Monday on a charge of altering a chauffeur's license. Police alleged the date of birth had been changed on the permit.

Police also alleged that Buckley was AWOL from Ft. Benning, Ga. The court dismissed the charge because military police from Ft. Hayes in Columbus took custody of Buckley Tuesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, William Wilson, 728 Avondale St., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic light on Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St. He was cited Tuesday at 3:46 a. m., police said.

Lowe and Smith will oppose each other in November for the post which George E. Willshaw, Republican, gave up to run successfully for his party's mayoralty nomination.

Councilman Floyd L. Murray of the First Ward won renomination easily, defeating three others. Asking a third term, Murray defeated William C. Rhea of Erie St., a Patterson Industries employe and a member of the City Planning Commission; Thomas J. Kidder of Etruria St., a machine shop employe at Crucible, and Clifford J. Cooper of St. George St., a service station employe who ran for mayor two years ago.

Murray	224
Rea	123
Cooper	112
Kidder	80

The Republican First Ward nomination went to Richard W. Carter of Erie St., who was unopposed. Carter received 173 votes. He is an employe of the Globe Brick Co. and president of the United Brick & Clay Workers Local 647.

The unofficial returns showed that Councilman William E. Davis of Edwards Ave., seeking Democratic nomination for a second term, lost by four votes to Robert B. Laughlin of W. Sixth St., a decorating kilnman at the Homer Laughlin China Co. who held the Fourth Ward seat in 1961-62.

The tabulation showed:

Laughlin	213
Davis	209

Davis may seek a recount if the unofficial count is confirmed by the official canvass which the Election Board expects to complete by Friday.

The Republicans' Fourth Ward nominee is Harold R. Maylone, 1073 Dresden Ave., a TV serviceman at the Smith & Phillips Co. He defeated Robert G. Duncan of Williams Ave., a Crucible employe who formerly served twice in the Fourth Ward post, and Mrs. Grace Cartwright Leasure, 410 Jefferson St., a housewife and treasurer of the Women's Republican Club.

The tabulation showed:

Maylone	153
Leasure	131
Duncan	117

Councilman James F. Cunningham of the Second Ward won renomination on the Democratic slate by a 29-vote margin, according to the complete, unofficial returns. He defeated Edward L. Nelson of Thompson Ave., city Civil Defense director and an employe of the Outdoor Army Store.

The tabulation showed:

Cunningham	266
Nelson	237

The Republican nomination for the Second Ward seat went to Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson of Ambrose Ave., mother of two and a former schoolteacher. She won over Dennis H. Smith, 422 College St., deputy city CD director and a 14-year employe of Crucible.

The tabulation showed:

Wilson	402
Smith	220

Councilman Donald E. Smith of Woodbine Ave., Democrat, was renominated easily for a third term in the Third Ward. He defeated James Paul Grimes of W. 4th St., a caster at the Hall China Co.; Albert J. Garvey of Canton St., a Crucible plant protection employe, and Frank D. Bennett of Canton St., a former city employe who now works at Crucible.

Smith	128
Garvey	77
Bennett	65
Grimes	49

The GOP nominee for the Third Ward seat is James E. Lowe, 806 Lincoln Ave., an employe of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division at Midland who sought the same post in 1956. Lowe won over S. James Welch of St. John St., who held the Third Ward seat in 1962-63, and Paul C. Shingler, 359 Garfield St., an insurance agent.

Lowe	142
Welch	94
Shingler	65

Three others were nominated without opposition in the voting yesterday, including two incumbents.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper of North St., a Democrat bidding for an eighth term, received 1,304 complimentary votes.

Treasurer Bert A. Dawson of Lisbon St., a Republican, was nominated again with 1,495 votes.

Dawson virtually is assured of a new term because Democrats did not choose a candidate yesterday to run against him in the general election.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Democrat, bypassed the primaries because he had no opposition. No Republicans entered for the general election, so the judge is assured of a second six-year term.

Dr. Sheppard Ordered Back To Ohio Pen

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals today ordered Dr. Sam Sheppard remanded to the Ohio Penitentiary to resume the life sentence imposed on him for the 1954 slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

The appeals court, by a 2-1 decision, reversed a ruling by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Carl Weinman last July 15 which ordered Sheppard's release from prison on grounds he had not received a fair trial, in the Common Pleas Court at Cleveland.

Only three basketball players have scored more than 1,000 points at Penn State. They are Jesse Arnelle, Mark DuMars and Bob Weiss.

2,300 More Due Soon

1,200 More GIs Flown Into Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, (AP) — An armada of transport planes landed 1,200 U.S. paratroopers in South Viet Nam today. They are the first American Army ground combat units sent to fight the Communist Viet Cong.

Another 2,300 men of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were expected from Okinawa soon, probably this week.

Half of the 1,200 paratroopers were landed at the Bien Hoa air base 15 miles northeast of Saigon. The rest came in at the Vung Tau airstrip on the South China sea 40 miles southeast of Saigon.

U.S. Army forces already in Viet Nam are here as advisers to the South Vietnamese forces and as training personnel. The paratroopers are expected to have the same assignment that the U.S. Marines now have at the Da Nang air base and Phu Bai, 350 miles north of Saigon — defense in depth of the key installations with a liberal sprinkling of offensive operations against the Viet Cong thrown in.

Vung Tau may be destined to become a major buildup area for U.S. troops, similar to Da Nang. As the new arrivals took up position there, Vietnamese air force fighter-bombers were streaking down on suspected Viet Cong positions about five miles away, pouring cannon and rocket fire into the ground. Most of the troopers were too busy to notice, although the cannon shots were clearly audible.

The brigade's commander, Brig. Gen. Ellis Williamson, 47, of Raleigh N.C. was among the first men off the planes at Bien Hoa.

"Our morale is sky high," he said. "We have been prepared for this for some time."

In the air war, U.S. Air Force B57 Canberra jet bombers struck military convoys and an important military base in North Viet Nam Tuesday night.

A pair of Navy A4 Skyhawks from the carrier Midway struck at a pair of barges 90 miles south of Hanoi. They hit the barges with 50mm cannon fire and set them adrift, a Navy spokesman said.

All the planes returned safely, the spokesmen said.

Earlier Tuesday, 113 planes raided military barracks at Vinh Linh and an ammunition depot at Xom Rung, and all returned safely, U.S. spokesmen said.

The South Vietnamese government has decided to shut down the French cultural broadcasting station in retaliation against French President Charles de Gaulle's campaign to neutralize Viet Nam, realiable sources said today.

The Vietnamese were also hitting back for France's decision to send an observer instead of its foreign minister to the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization talks on Viet Nam in London, the sources reported.

Certificates Awarded For Course

Sixteen women have received certificates after completing a 150-hour special training course for sales personnel conducted under the Federal Manpower Development and Training Act.

Others receiving certificates were Kathleen Barker, Linda Brown, Carol Dillard, Margaret Doughty, Lois Hasala, Margaret Jackson, Mary Kozora, Gerry Lonkert, Laurel Thelma Foley and Jacqueline Molly Stone, Alice Weldon, Persohn, Patricia Prince, Maley.

The Ohio State Employment Service office tested, screened and selected the women for training after a survey showed a need for trained sales people in the area, Charles B. Boso, OSES manager, said.

Although completion of the course does not guarantee placement, the OSES will attempt to develop job openings for the qualified trainees, Boso said.

However, trained sales personnel are expected to be in demand when Hill's Plaza at Calcutta is completed late this summer, the OSES said.

The Board of Education was responsible for the training, with Walrath assisting Supt. Paul H. Blair, training facility officer, in coordinating the activities.

The course started March 29 and included techniques of selling merchandise to customers, emphasizing the principal selling points of the article, color coordination and proper style garment for individual selection.

There also was instruction in displaying merchandise to advantage, writing up sales slips, balancing cash and keeping accurate records.

Future training courses are being discussed and another program may be under way by mid-summer.

Driver Fined And Lectured For Speeding

William A. Blackhurst, 423 Grant St., was fined $20 and costs and given a lecture today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone on Dresden Ave. early Saturday.

The court lectured Blackhurst particularly on the fact he did not appear for a scheduled hearing Monday morning. Because of his non-appearance, the court issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

The judge said he "will not tolerate defendants showing contempt for the court." He told Blackhurst the "officer was good enough to release you to appear and you did not come to court as you had been told."

Patrolman Ronald Brookes told the court he pursued Blackhurst several blocks before halting him.

The court today ordered dismissal of an affidavit against Edward E. Buckley, 520 W. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, who was cited early Monday on a charge of altering a chauffeur's license. Police alleged the date of birth had been changed on the permit.

Police also alleged that Buckley was AWOL from Ft. Benning, Ga. The court dismissed the charge because military police from Ft. Hayes in Columbus took custody of Buckley Tuesday afternoon.

Meanwhile, William Wilson, 728 Avondale St., forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge of crashing a traffic light on Pennsylvania Ave. and Boyce St. He was cited Tuesday at 3:46 a. m., police said.

Council

Lowe and Smith will oppose each other in November for the post which George E. Willshaw, Republican, gave up to run successfully for his party's mayoralty nomination.

Councilman Floyd L. Murray of the First Ward won renomination easily, defeating three others. Asking a third term, Murray defeated William C. Rhea of Erie St., a Patterson Industries employe and a member of the City Planning Commission; Thomas J. Kidder of Etruria St., a machine shop employe at Crucible, and Clifford J. Cooper of St. George St., a service station employe who ran for mayor two years ago.

Murray	224
Rea	123
Cooper	112
Kidder	80

The Republican First Ward nomination went to Richard W. Carter of Erie St., who was unopposed. Carter received 173 votes. He is an employe of the Globe Brick Co. and president of the United Brick & Clay Workers Local 647.

The unofficial returns showed that Councilman William E. Davis of Edwards Ave., seeking Democratic nomination for a second term, lost by four votes to Robert B. Laughlin of W. Sixth St., a decorating kilnman at the Homer Laughlin China Co. who held the Fourth Ward seat in 1961-62.

The tabulation showed:

Laughlin	213
Davis	209

Davis may seek a recount if the unofficial count is confirmed by the official canvass which the Election Board expects to complete by Friday.

The Republicans' Fourth Ward nominee is Harold R. Maylone, 1073 Dresden Ave., a TV serviceman at the Smith & Phillips Co. He defeated Robert G. Duncan of Williams Ave., a Crucible employe who formerly served twice in the Fourth Ward post, and Mrs. Grace Cartwright Leasure, 410 Jefferson St., a housewife and treasurer of the Women's Republican Club.

The tabulation showed:

Maylone	153
Leasure	131
Duncan	117

Councilman James F. Cunningham of the Second Ward won renomination on the Democratic slate by a 29-vote margin, according to the complete, unofficial returns. He defeated Edward L. Nelson of Thompson Ave., city Civil Defense director and an employe of the Outdoor Army Store.

The tabulation showed:

Cunningham	266
Nelson	237

The Republican nomination for the Second Ward seat went to Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson of Ambrose Ave., mother of two and a former schoolteacher. She won over Dennis H. Smith, 422 College St., deputy city CD director and a 14-year employe of Crucible.

The tabulation showed:

Wilson	402
Smith	220

Councilman Donald E. Smith of Woodbine Ave., Democrat, was renominated easily for a third term in the Third Ward. He defeated James Paul Grimes of W. 4th St., a caster at the Hall China Co.; Albert J. Garvey of Canton St., a Crucible plant protection employe, and Frank D. Bennett of Canton St., a former city employe who now works at Crucible.

Smith	128
Garvey	77
Bennett	65
Grimes	49

The GOP nominee for the Third Ward seat is James E. Lowe, 806 Lincoln Ave., an employe of the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division at Midland who sought the same post in 1956. Lowe won over S. James Welch of St. John St., who held the Third Ward seat in 1962-63, and Paul C. Shingler, 359 Garfield St., an insurance agent.

Lowe	142
Welch	94
Shingler	65

Three others were nominated without opposition in the voting yesterday, including two incumbents.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper of North St., a Democrat bidding for an eighth term, received 1,304 complimentary votes.

Treasurer Bert A. Dawson of Lisbon St., a Republican, was nominated again with 1,495 votes.

Dawson virtually is assured of a new term because Democrats did not choose a candidate yesterday to run against him in the general election.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Democrat, bypassed the primaries because he had no opposition. No Republicans entered for the general election, so the judge is assured of a second six-year term.

Dr. Sheppard Ordered Back To Ohio Pen

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals today ordered Dr. Sam Sheppard remanded to the Ohio Penitentiary to resume the life sentence imposed on him for the 1954 slaying of his wife, Marilyn.

The appeals court, by a 2-1 decision, reversed a ruling by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Carl Weinman last July 15 which ordered Sheppard's release from prison on grounds he had not received a fair trial, in the Common Pleas Court at Cleveland.

Only three basketball players have scored more than 1,000 points at Penn State. They are Jesse Arnelle, Mark DuMars and Bob Weiss.

9 Teams To Vie In County Meet Friday

Pilgrim Rates Potters Lone Hope

Eight teams will be out to dethrone Columbiana, a school which has won the title for the last two years, when the 62nd annual Columbiana County track meet is staged Friday night at Salem.

With the sensational Jim Ward leading the way the Clippers finished ahead of the field in the last two outings.

COUNTY athletes staged an assault on the records last year when five marks fell. Ward set new records in the 100 and 440 after establishing the 220 record in 1963 as a junior.

East Liverpool's Curt Battistelli wrote a new 880 yard record, Fred Gosney of Columbiana stepped over the low hurdles in record breaking time and Salem's mile relay team lowered that standard.

THE 62ND meet will get under way Friday at 1:30 p. m. with the shot put and broad jump listed as the opening events.

The afternoon activity will conclude with the preliminaries in the 220 yard dash at 3:30 p. m.

The meet will resume at 7 p. m. with the pole vault leading off the evening session.

EAST Liverpool's main hope in the County meet is Jon Pilgrim, the Potters distance star. Coach Norm Six will enter Pilgrim in the mile and 880 events.

Pilgrim has recorded the best time in the county at a mile covering the distance in 4:33.5 while his 880 time is 2:03.2.

Nine schools will vie for the title this year including Wellsville, Salem, Columbiana, Crestview, Leetonia, East Palestine, Beaver Local, United and East Liverpool.

Wellsville and Beaver Local have shown well balanced teams so far this season. Wellsville has one standout in Chris Thornton who will be entered in the sprints.

LARRY ROBERTS, a junior, has been Beaver Local's leading scorer and has a good chance of setting a record in the shot put.

The county mark is 52 feet, nine inches established by Tony Conkle of East Palestine in 1953. Roberts already has reached 52 feet, 2¾ inches in that event. He also runs the 100 and 220.

Dick Rudibaugh, has been scoring consistently in the hurdle events for the Beavers while Norm Gaydos has been winning the high jump with his top mark at 5 feet, eight inches.

Steubenville Wins On Run In 8th Frame

Steubenville Central pushed across the winning run in the last of the eighth inning to end East Liverpool's tourney hopes in scoring a 5-4 victory in the Class AA Sectional Baseball tournament final Tuesday at Steubenville.

With the score deadlocked 4-4 after the regulation seven innings, two successive singles in the eighth gave Central its winning margin.

The Potters jumped on Sokol, Central's starting hurler for three runs in their half of the fourth inning but the Crusaders bounced back with three runs in the last of the fourth to tie the count at 3-3.

A Potter error and three straight singles gave Central a 4-3 margin in the sixth before East Liverpool tied the score again with a run in the seventh when Ed Golden who had singled, scored on Phil Stewart's base hit.

Righthander Len Walker started for the Potters and was touched for nine hits while fanning six batters. East Liverpool committed three costly errors during the contest.

Carl Natalina and Stewart led the hitting attack with two singles each while Walker helped his own cause with a double to drive in a run in the fourth inning.

Local Dog Wins Championship At Columbus Show

In less than a month Carmen Cananzi's Koonoona Bobo, a silky terrier, has finished a championship.

The Midland owner's dog took a three point major at Mansfield on April 25 then finished the championship the following day at Columbus with four majors. Koonoona added points to the championships at Charleston and Huntington last weekend.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Philadelphia Phillies, who failed by one game to win the pennant in the National League last year, now are fighting for it vicariously in the American league.

They're doing it through the Los Angeles Angels, who whipped Boston 7-1 Tuesday night for their sixth victory in the last eight games.

Sparking the triumph were two former Phillies — pitcher Marcelino Lopez and first baseman Costen Shockley. Lopez hurled a six-hitter and had a shutout until Lenny Green homered in the eighth inning while Shockley smashed a grand-slam homer in the fifth.

Lopez went to Los Angeles in the deal that sent Vic Power to the Phillies for their pennant battle late last season.

Shockley and pitcher Rudy May became Angels when Bo Belinsky moved to Philadelphia during the winter. Power, incidentally, is back with the Angels and replaces Shockley in the late innings.

Lopez' performance gave him three victories, most on the club, against two defeats and lowered his earned run average to 2.08, second only to May's 0.86 among the Angels' starting rotation, which also includes Dean Chance and Fred Newman.

All three youngsters — Lopez, May and Shockley — were considered prime prospects when they were in Philadelphia's farm system, but the Phillies decided they would surrender them for talent that might help win a pennant.

The way things are going now, the Angels may wind up closer to that goal than the Phillies.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Minnesota stopped Baltimore 7-3, Chicago defeated Detroit 10-6, Washington trimmed Kansas City 4-2 and New York knocked off Cleveland 5-3.

Dennis Bennett, another ex-Phillie, made his first appearance of the season for the Red Sox, allowing two runs and four hits in two innings. Bennett, traded to Boston for Dick Stuart, has had arm trouble since early in spring training.

Baltimore's Wally Bunker was rocked for home runs by Earl Battey and Tony Oliva before hitting Harmon Killebrew with a pitch in the Twins' five-run third inning. Plate umpire Bill Kinnamon warned Bunker, an action which brings an automatic $50 fine.

The White Sox capitalized on five Detroit errors for six unearned runs in the first four innings. Norm Cash's bobble led to three runs in the first while Ed Rakow's wild throw gave Chicago two in the fourth.

In between, in the third, Chicago tallied three times on three singles and errors by Al Kaline, Don Wert and George Thomas.

A single by Ken McMullen and Don Lock's triple brought in the decisive run for the Senators in the fifth inning. Kansas City had tied it 2-2 in the fourth on singles by Ken Harrelson and Jim Gentile and a double play.

The Yankees followed a 47-minute rain delay with four runs in the fourth inning. Joe Pepitone doubled in the first two runs in the third on an infield out. Fred Whitfield smashed a three-run homer in the Cleveland half of the inning.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh, slammed two home runs, his three-run blast in the ninth inning giving the Pirates a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING — Tony Cloninger, Milwaukee, pitched hitless ball for 5 1-3 innings and wound up with a five-hitter as the Braves whipped Houston 9-3.

Thornton, Pease Lead Wellsville Track Win

Chris Thonton and Bill Pease each posted victories in two events to pace Coach Ken Woods' Tigers.

Thornton sped the 100 in 10.4 and covered the 220 in 22.9. He is the main threat to win the 100 yard dash in the County meet Friday night.

Pease took two field events in winning the broad jump at 19 feet, 10¾ inches and the pole vault at 10 feet, six inches.

Jack oung scored in the 440 with a good clocking of 53.8, Bill Reed won the half mile in 2:13.9 and Ron McCauley covered the mile in 4:51.

The high jump went to Ed Boso at 5 feet, 4 inches while Bob Milligan won the discus at 115 feet, 11 inches. Wellsville's 880 and mile relay teams won.

Western Beaver's only first came when McMillan won the shot put at 42 feet, nine inches.

Oak Glen Athletic Teams To Be Honored Saturday

Over 100 athletes will be honored when the Oak Glen Boosters hold their annual all-sports banquet Saturday night at 7:30 at the high school.

Al DeLuca, chairman of the department of education at St. Vincent's College and former coach there, will be guest speaker.

The Duquesne U. graduate coached St. Vincent's College from 1948-1962 and had the only undefeated team in the school's history during the 1949 season.

Noted as an outstanding banquet speaker, he has spoken at numerous high school and college affairs.

The Philadelphia Phillies, who failed by one game to win the pennant in the National League last year, now are fighting for it vicariously in the American league.

They're doing it through the Los Angeles Angels, who whipped Boston 7-1 Tuesday night for their sixth victory in the last eight games.

Sparking the triumph were two former Phillies — pitcher Marcelino Lopez and first baseman Costen Shockley. Lopez hurled a six-hitter and had a shutout until Lenny Green homered in the eighth inning while Shockley smashed a grand-slam homer in the fifth.

Lopez went to Los Angeles in the deal that sent Vic Power to the Phillies for their pennant battle late last season.

Shockley and pitcher Rudy May became Angels when Bo Belinsky moved to Philadelphia during the winter. Power, incidentally, is back with the Angels and replaces Shockley in the late innings.

Lopez' performance gave him three victories, most on the club, against two defeats and lowered his earned run average to 2.08, second only to May's 0.86 among the Angels' starting rotation, which also includes Dean Chance and Fred Newman.

All three youngsters — Lopez, May and Shockley — were considered prime prospects when they were in Philadelphia's farm system, but the Phillies decided they would surrender them for talent that might help win a pennant.

The way things are going now, the Angels may wind up closer to that goal than the Phillies.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Minnesota stopped Baltimore 7-3, Chicago defeated Detroit 10-6, Washington trimmed Kansas City 4-2 and New York knocked off Cleveland 5-3.

Dennis Bennett, another ex-Phillie, made his first appearance of the season for the Red Sox, allowing two runs and four hits in two innings. Bennett, traded to Boston for Dick Stuart, has had arm trouble since early in spring training.

Baltimore's Wally Bunker was rocked for home runs by Earl Battey and Tony Oliva before hitting Harmon Killebrew with a pitch in the Twins' five-run third inning. Plate umpire Bill Kinnamon warned Bunker, an action which brings an automatic $50 fine.

The White Sox capitalized on five Detroit errors for six unearned runs in the first four innings. Norm Cash's bobble led to three runs in the first while Ed Rakow's wild throw gave Chicago two in the fourth.

In between, in the third, Chicago tallied three times on three singles and errors by Al Kaline, Don Wert and George Thomas.

A single by Ken McMullen and Don Lock's triple brought in the decisive run for the Senators in the fifth inning. Kansas City had tied it 2-2 in the fourth on singles by Ken Harrelson and Jim Gentile and a double play.

The Yankees followed a 47-minute rain delay with four runs in the fourth inning. Joe Pepitone doubled in the first two runs in the third on an infield out. Fred Whitfield smashed a three-run homer in the Cleveland half of the inning.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh, slammed two home runs, his three-run blast in the ninth inning giving the Pirates a 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

PITCHING — Tony Cloninger, Milwaukee, pitched hitless ball for 5 1-3 innings and wound up with a five-hitter as the Braves whipped Houston 9-3.

Thornton, Pease Lead Wellsville Track Win

Chris Thonton and Bill Pease each posted victories in two events to pace Coach Ken Woods' Tigers.

Thornton sped the 100 in 10.4 and covered the 220 in 22.9. He is the main threat to win the 100 yard dash in the County meet Friday night.

Pease took two field events in winning the broad jump at 19 feet, 10¾ inches and the pole vault at 10 feet, six inches.

Jack oung scored in the 440 with a good clocking of 53.8, Bill Reed won the half mile in 2:13.9 and Ron McCauley covered the mile in 4:51.

The high jump went to Ed Boso at 5 feet, 4 inches while Bob Milligan won the discus at 115 feet, 11 inches. Wellsville's 880 and mile relay teams won.

Western Beaver's only first came when McMillan won the shot put at 42 feet, nine inches.

Oak Glen Athletic Teams To Be Honored Saturday

Over 100 athletes will be honored when the Oak Glen Boosters hold their annual all-sports banquet Saturday night at 7:30 at the high school.

The Duquesne U. graduate coached St. Vincent's College from 1948-1962 and had the only undefeated team in the school's history during the 1949 season.

His team played in the 1950 Tangerine Bowl and defeated Emery and Henry, 7-6.

Noted as an outstanding banquet speaker, he has spoken at numerous high school and college affairs.

Bockhorn Of Royals Quits After 7 Seasons

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arlen Bockhorn, former University of Dayton star, announced Tuesday his retirement after seven seasons with the Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association.

A severe knee injury kept Bockhorn, 32, out of action most of the 1964-65 season. The 6-foot-4 guard played in only 19 games before he was hurt.

Not Many (913) See Aaron, Mathews Pace Braves Win

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Aaron and Mathews, who have combined for the most homers by two teammates in National League history, added three more Tuesday night as the Atlanta-bound Braves whipped Houston 9-3 before 913 paying customers — smallest turnout in the club's 13-year Milwaukee tenure.

While the attendance figure dipped below 1,000 for the first time ever at County Stadium, Aaron, with two homers, and Mathews, with one, boosted their record total as teammates to 749, four more than Gil Hodges and Duke Snider hit while playing together for the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers.

Yogi Berra, starting his first National League game, singled twice and scored the deciding run in the New York Mets' 2-1 victory over Philadelphia. San Francisco ripped St. Louis 9-2 behind two-run homers by Jesus Alou, Willie Mays and Jim Hart.

Willie Davis' tie-breaking ninth-inning single paced the Los Angeles Dodgers to an 8-6 victory over Cincinnati and Pittsburgh slugged the Chicago Cubs 6-3 as Willie Stargell and Jerry Lynch each homered twice.

Aaron's third and fourth 1965 homers and Mathews' sixth complemented the five-hit pitching of Tony Cloninger at Milwaukee. Cloninger didn't allow a hit until Joe Morgan doubled with one out in the sixth inning and the Braves in front, 7-0.

The two homers gave Aaron 370 for his career, tying Hodges for 12th position on the all-time list. Mathews, with 451, is ninth.

Berra, signed by the Mets as a coach after being fired as manager of the Yankees last fall, played a full game for the first time since he was activated last week. He scored the Mets' second run on Roy McMillan's seventh-inning single and handled left-hander Al Jackson, who scattered eight hits and set a club strikeout mark of 11.

The Giants chased St. Louis starter Ray Sadecki in the first inning, with Alou and Mays unloading before the left-hander could retire a batter. Juan Marichal, 4-2, checked the Cardinals on six hits, including a homer by Ken Boyer.

Willie Davis' third hit of the game, off Cincinnati reliever Bill McCool in the ninth, followed successive walks to Maury Wills and Wes Parker by starter Joey Jay and gave the Dodgers a 7-6 lead. John Roseboro's sacrifice fly delivered an insurance run. Jim Lefebvre's eighth-inning homer had pulled LA even.

Stargell's second homer, a three-run shot in the ninth, decided the Pirates-Cubs afternoon game. Lynch homered in the second inning and he and Stargell hit consecutive circuits in the sixth for a 3-2 Pittsburgh margin. The Cubs tied in the eighth on Ron Santo's run-scoring single.

Aaron and Mathews, who have combined for the most homers by two teammates in National League history, added three more Tuesday night as the Atlanta-bound Braves whipped Houston 9-3 before 913 paying customers — smallest turnout in the club's 13-year Milwaukee tenure.

While the attendance figure dipped below 1,000 for the first time ever at County Stadium, Aaron, with two homers, and Mathews, with one, boosted their record total as teammates to 749, four more than Gil Hodges and Duke Snider hit while playing together for the Brooklyn-Los Angeles Dodgers.

Yogi Berra, starting his first National League game, singled twice and scored the deciding run in the New York Mets' 2-1 victory over Philadelphia. San Francisco ripped St. Louis 9-2 behind two-run homers by Jesus Alou, Willie Mays and Jim Hart.

Willie Davis' tie-breaking ninth-inning single paced the Los Angeles Dodgers to an 8-6 victory over Cincinnati and Pittsburgh slugged the Chicago Cubs 6-3 as Willie Stargell and Jerry Lynch each homered twice.

Aaron's third and fourth 1965 homers and Mathews' sixth complemented the five-hit pitching of Tony Cloninger at Milwaukee. Cloninger didn't allow a hit until Joe Morgan doubled with one out in the sixth inning and the Braves in front, 7-0.

The two homers gave Aaron 370 for his career, tying Hodges for 12th position on the all-time list. Mathews, with 451, is ninth.

Berra, signed by the Mets as a coach after being fired as manager of the Yankees last fall, played a full game for the first time since he was activated last week. He scored the Mets' second run on Roy McMillan's seventh-inning single and handled left-hander Al Jackson, who scattered eight hits and set a club strikeout mark of 11.

The Giants chased St. Louis starter Ray Sadecki in the first inning, with Alou and Mays unloading before the left-hander could retire a batter. Juan Marichal, 4-2, checked the Cardinals on six hits, including a homer by Ken Boyer.

Willie Davis' third hit of the game, off Cincinnati reliever Bill McCool in the ninth, followed successive walks to Maury Wills and Wes Parker by starter Joey Jay and gave the Dodgers a 7-6 lead. John Roseboro's sacrifice fly delivered an insurance run. Jim Lefebvre's eighth-inning homer had pulled LA even.

Stargell's second homer, a three-run shot in the ninth, decided the Pirates-Cubs afternoon game. Lynch homered in the second inning and he and Stargell hit consecutive circuits in the sixth for a 3-2 Pittsburgh margin. The Cubs tied in the eighth on Ron Santo's run-scoring single.

Roberts Wins 4 Events In Beavers' 78-31 Win

Larry Roberts won two sprints and a pair of field events to lead Beaver Local's track team in a 78-31 victory at Southern Local Tuesday.

Roberts measured 52 feet, one inch in his specialty the shot put, which is only eight inches shy of the County record.

Roberts won the discus with a distance of 122 feet, 4½ inches took the 100 in 10.6 and the 220 in 23.9.

Teammate Dick Rudibaugh won both hurdles events again by running the 120-yard highs in 16.1 and the lows in 22.7.

John McCord was a double winner for Southern Local. He was clocked in 5:13 for the mile and tied with Doak in the 440 at 61.6.

Southern Local's 880 yard relay team won that event in 1:45.

Co-captains for the University of Arizona 1965 football team are Tom Malloy, linebacker from Nutley, N.J., and Jim Pazerski, left tackle from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Rich Get Richer, UCLA Gets Giant

By JIM HACKLEMAN

The 7-foot-1 New Yorker, most coveted schoolboy basketball star in recent years, disclosed Tuesday that he will enter UCLA this September. Johnny Wooden's UCLANS currently rule the college basketball world with two straight national titles.

Alcindor, kept out-of-bounds to college coaches, scouts, alumni and newsmen the past four years by his coach at Power Memorial High School, Jack Donohue, made his announcement at a press conference at the school's gym.

"This fall I will be attending UCLA," the articulate teen-ager told some three dozen newspaper, radio and television men.

"I chose UCLA because of its atmosphere, the people out there and because it has a curriculum I want."

Through it all stood a disappointed Donohue, named coach at Holy Cross last month and hopeful of taking his prized protege along with him.

"I knew he liked UCLA, but I was hoping right up to now," Donohue said. Under the personable young coach, Alcindor became the most famed high school basketball player in New York's history and set city records with 2,067 points and 2,002 rebounds.

On the subject of UCLA, the 17-year-old giant said:

"It has a very good coach. And besides its basketball, I like Los Angeles and the curriculum at UCLA. I'll take liberal arts, but I haven't decided on a major. I'm interested in writing and music."

Rich Get Richer, UCLA Gets Giant

By JIM HACKLEMAN

The 7-foot-1 New Yorker, most coveted schoolboy basketball star in recent years, disclosed Tuesday that he will enter UCLA this September. Johnny Wooden's UCLANS currently rule the college basketball world with two straight national titles.

Alcindor, kept out-of-bounds to college coaches, scouts, alumni and newsmen the past four years by his coach at Power Memorial High School, Jack Donohue, made his announcement at a press conference at the school's gym.

"This fall I will be attending UCLA," the articulate teen-ager told some three dozen newspaper, radio and television men.

"I chose UCLA because of its atmosphere, the people out there and because it has a curriculum I want."

Through it all stood a disappointed Donohue, named coach at Holy Cross last month and hopeful of taking his prized protege along with him.

"I knew he liked UCLA, but I was hoping right up to now," Donohue said. Under the personable young coach, Alcindor became the most famed high school basketball player in New York's history and set city records with 2,067 points and 2,002 rebounds.

On the subject of UCLA, the 17-year-old giant said:

"It has a very good coach. And besides its basketball, I like Los Angeles and the curriculum at UCLA. I'll take liberal arts, but I haven't decided on a major. I'm interested in writing and music."

Mother's Day Program To Be Held By Eagles

A public Mother's Day program will be held at the Eagles Lodge 457 hall Sunday at 2 p.m., with the presentation of an "Eagles Mother of the Year" award.

The award will be presented to a mother chosen on the basis of accomplishments which have most benefitted the family life of the lodge, Stanley Krawiec, president, said.

The recipient will receive a corsage and a plaque. The oldest and youngest mothers also will be honored.

Maj. William Hathorn of the Salvation Army will present the main address in the program sponsored by the lodge and its Auxiliary.

Singing and a tribute to mothers will conclude the program.

Chairmen of the event are Homer Fultz and Edward Hephner.

The program has been held by Eagles lodges across the nation ever since the lodge pioneered for a general observance of Mother's Day.

The first plea for such an observance was made by an Eagle member, the late Frank Hering of South Bend, Ind., who served as president of the lodge and editor of the Eagle magazine.

In 1904 during a memorial service at Indianapolis, Hering, then a young professor at Notre Dame University, urged that a day be set aside as a national observance in honor of mothers.

Eagles lodges began sponsoring a Mother's Day and in 1912, two years before Congress provided for the national day, the Eagles national organization placed a Mother's Day on the Eagles calendar.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures Thursday through Monday will average 8 to 12 degrees above normal. Some representative normals highs and lows: Cincinnati 72-51, Columbus 71-47, Cleveland 66-44. Warm until turning a little cooler early next week. Rather frequent scattered showers expected to total three-quarters inch or more.

Salem Backs Cranmer But Defeats Levy

SALEM — Mayor Dean B. Cranmer was renominated by an almost 3-to-1 vote and the 4.6-mill school levy was rejected in Tuesday's primary election that produced an unexpectedly heavy vote.

Bidding for his sixth nonconsecutive term, Cranmer smothered his opponent, Ford Joseph Jr., under an avalanche of votes that won all of the city's 23 precincts for the incumbent.

The tabulation was:

Cranmer	1,218
Joseph	495

The tally on the school levy, which required a 55 per cent favorable vote for passage, was:

For	1,406
Against	1,860

A surprising total of 1,734 Democrats turned out to decide the lone candidate contest on the ballot. The overall city and Perry Township vote, including those balloting only on the city and two county levies and four state amendments, was 3,339 (2,903 city and 436 township).

The city Republicans skipped the primary under Ohio's "no contest" law, which provides there need be no party balloting in the absence of contests.

As a result of Tuesday's vote, Cranmer will face Republican Frank Mason, an accountant, in the general election in November. Joseph, who lost in a race for state representative last year, is completing his second term as president of City Council.

The school levy, which would have yielded $230,000 annually for five years if approved, was earmarked to provide increases in salaries of teachers and nonteaching personnel.

Gaming Case Dismissed On Defense Plea

Granting a defense motion that police had obtained evidence illegally, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today dismissed an affidavit in which a veteran's club commander was charged with possession of lottery slips.

The judge, after hearing lengthy arguments, dropped the charges against Everett Donald Abbott, 410 Walnut St., cited early the morning of April 24 at Vin Muscatel Pup Tent, Military Order of the Cootie, familiarly known as the Cootie Club.

Abbott was represented by Atty. John B. McDonald. Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark appeared for the prosecution. The charge was filed by Lt. William E. McDaniel.

In granting the defense motion, the judge cited a ruling by the U. S. Supreme Court in an Ohio case in which the circumstances were similar.

In searching the premises after they were summoned to the club because Abbott was found unconscious on the floor, the officers obtained the evidence contrary to law, the judge commented. He cited the U. S. Court's opinion that a defendant cannot be convicted on evidence which is obtained illegally.

But the judge added: "The police did a good, thorough job, although they went beyond the bounds of what they should have done."

The judge cited the high court's opinion that there must be strict observance of the Fourth and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution "or the government becomes a lawbreaker." He added that it "breeds contempt for the law and every man becomes a law unto himself." The amendments guarantee due process of law and forbid illegal searches and seizures.

The evidence showed that two patrolmen were dispatched to the club after Abbott's wife reported he was lying unconscious on the floor. The officers summoned an ambulance to remove him. As he was placed on a litter, he revived and was questioned by Lt. McDaniel.

The lieutenant said a check was made to find if any money had been taken, as the cash register was open and empty. In checking on the money, the officers found the alleged lottery slips, the lieutenant said. He said Abbott said some of the slips were used for "a raffle for the hospital fund."

Crucible Sets Price Boosts

PITTSBURGH — Selective price increases on its stainless steel bars, rod, wire and forging billets have been announced today by the Crucible Steel Co.

Revisions, including increases in base prices and adjustments in certain size and quantity extras, become effective on shipments beginning at 12:01 a. m. next Monday.

"It has been more than six years since the last price increase on these products," pointed out J. H. Buerger, vice president-sales.

"During this period a combination of higher material and manufacturing costs, plus increasingly restrictive customer standards, have greatly increased producing costs. Our action is necessary to compensate for part of this added expense."

Price adjustments on these stainless steel products vary. For bars, the increase averages about 5 per cent and on cold heading wire it is about 7 per cent. On forging billets, some prices have been decreased and others increased. The change reflects an average increase of 3 to 4 per cent.

The change in quantity extras applies to non - standard hot rolled bar flat and square sections for quantitites under one ton. Adjustments are made in selected sizes of hot rolled flats and squares, cold finished flats, and on cold heading wire.

He was returned to the Beaver County jail without bond, because of a parole detainer against him.

Picketing

ing the special meeting, the employes said: "It will be decided after the Council meeting what further action will be taken."

The workers were offered the 5 per cent boost after a long, stormy session with the councilmen Monday night.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., finance committee chairman, said the hike will cover all workers except women clerical employes in City Hall offices. Most of the women are married and, therefore, do not need a boost so badly to help meet living costs, Sample said.

The councilmen promised the employes a decision will be made by early June on other requests, covering fringe benefits.

The employes told Council Monday night they were not satisfied with the proposed raise, but Sample said available city funds would not permit a larger hike.

The employes picketed the main entrance to City Hall Monday. They termed the activity a "demonstration" to advise the public of their need for wage increases.

There was no work stoppage. There was no picketing Tuesday, as the municipal building was closed for the election.

Superintendents Are Appointed At 'Kennedy Park'

Two men have been appointed by the Hancock County commissioners as superintendents of Kennedy Park on Route 66 near Newell from May through September.

Leonard Cook of Weirton and Jon N. Watson of New Cumberland were named. A third man will be appointed later to the crew to be in charge of the upkeep of the new recreational site.

The appointments came after a motion by Jack Evans of New Cumberland that three superintendents be named, with each commissioner appointing one man.

The motion was seconded by William Graham of Chester, who immediately named Leonard Cook as his choice. Court President James Finley of Weirton opposed Graham's choice of Cook, stating there were other men who were in greater need of the $300 per month the job pays.

Evans named Watson as his choice. Finlay said he had five men from Butler District in mind, all of whom needed the job. He said he would make his recommendation later.

Presidents Arthur, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Taft wore mustaches without beards.

Thayer Receives Commissioners' OK As A Deputy

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners has confirmed Sheriff Joe Rodak's appointment of Jack Thayer of 601 S. Chestnut St., New Cumberland, as deputy sheriff to succeed Guy Moore of Weirton.

In a letter to the court, the sheriff declared he had dismissed Moore last week "for insubordination".

Thayer, a former Air Force enlistee and former Weirton Steel Co. employe, was administered the oath as deputy by County Clerk George Konchar.

After requesting the court to start accepting bids for two new cruisers for his force of deputies, Rodak said he was planning a trip to Charleston to obtain approval for installation of additional road signs on county roads as an increased safety measure.

Court President James Finley of Weirton asked Rodak to investigate the number and condition of traffic and road signs in the Kings Creek area. He said he had received numerous complaints by Kings Creek residents that there are not sufficient signs warning of children at play in the streets.

Rodak said he would have the streets investigated.

The sheriff also said he will have his men begin traffic checks in the county Saturday because of an increasing volume of traffic and reports of continued hazardous driving.

Picketing

ing the special meeting, the employes said: "It will be decided after the Council meeting what further action will be taken."

The workers were offered the 5 per cent boost after a long, stormy session with the councilmen Monday night.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr., finance committee chairman, said the hike will cover all workers except women clerical employes in City Hall offices. Most of the women are married and, therefore, do not need a boost so badly to help meet living costs, Sample said.

The councilmen promised the employes a decision will be made by early June on other requests, covering fringe benefits.

The employes told Council Monday night they were not satisfied with the proposed raise, but Sample said available city funds would not permit a larger hike.

The employes picketed the main entrance to City Hall Monday. They termed the activity a "demonstration" to advise the public of their need for wage increases.

There was no work stoppage. There was no picketing Tuesday, as the municipal building was closed for the election.

Superintendents Are Appointed At 'Kennedy Park'

Two men have been appointed by the Hancock County commissioners as superintendents of Kennedy Park on Route 66 near Newell from May through September.

Leonard Cook of Weirton and Jon N. Watson of New Cumberland were named. A third man will be appointed later to the crew to be in charge of the upkeep of the new recreational site.

The appointments came after a motion by Jack Evans of New Cumberland that three superintendents be named, with each commissioner appointing one man.

The motion was seconded by William Graham of Chester, who immediately named Leonard Cook as his choice. Court President James Finley of Weirton opposed Graham's choice of Cook, stating there were other men who were in greater need of the $300 per month the job pays.

Evans named Watson as his choice. Finlay said he had five men from Butler District in mind, all of whom needed the job. He said he would make his recommendation later.

Presidents Arthur, Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Taft wore mustaches without beards.

Thayer Receives Commissioners' OK As A Deputy

The Hancock County Court of Commissioners has confirmed Sheriff Joe Rodak's appointment of Jack Thayer of 601 S. Chestnut St., New Cumberland, as deputy sheriff to succeed Guy Moore of Weirton.

In a letter to the court, the sheriff declared he had dismissed Moore last week "for insubordination".

Thayer, a former Air Force enlistee and former Weirton Steel Co. employe, was administered the oath as deputy by County Clerk George Konchar.

After requesting the court to start accepting bids for two new cruisers for his force of deputies, Rodak said he was planning a trip to Charleston to obtain approval for installation of additional road signs on county roads as an increased safety measure.

Court President James Finley of Weirton asked Rodak to investigate the number and condition of traffic and road signs in the Kings Creek area. He said he had received numerous complaints by Kings Creek residents that there are not sufficient signs warning of children at play in the streets.

Rodak said he would have the streets investigated.

The sheriff also said he will have his men begin traffic checks in the county Saturday because of an increasing volume of traffic and reports of continued hazardous driving.

Woods Blaze Ignites Anew Near Salineville

SALINEVILLE — Volunteer firemen were summoned twice Tuesday to sites north of here where a woods fire, which burned over more than 450 acres Monday, broke out anew.

Firemen battled one blaze three miles north of the village yesterday afternoon for an hour and fought another a mile north of here in the evening. Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio reported.

Fifty-five additional acres were burned over yesterday afternoon, according to the Yellow Creek Fire Tower.

Council May Pay Fees Of Attorney In Hephner Case

Wellsville Council Tuesday night gave first reading to a resolution declaring its intent to pay $1,589 attorney fees incurred by Police Chief John Hephner in his fight to be reinstated as head of the department about a year ago.

Hephner was removed from office by Mayor William Daugherty. A Civil Service Commission hearing was held and Hephner was cleared of the charges leveled against him and ordered reinstated.

Last night's resolution was prepared by Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 11 and read verbatim by Wayne Rose, Council clerk.

Councilman Meryle Kenney moved and Councilman Walter Henthorne seconded that the resolution be given first reading and referred to the finance committee.

THE RESOLUTION declares that Solicitor William Bush could have elected to defend the chief, but chose rather to prosecute. It also states that Bush did not take steps to provide the chief with legal counsel and that he had to obtain attorneys on his own.

The FOP stated that it believes Council has a moral obligation to the chief and asked that money be appropriated to pay the fees. It was signed by Patrolman Robert E. Wellington, secretary.

Councilman Paul Todd, finance chairman, first commented that the resolution should be given further consideration, but then voted to pass it on first reading.

Patrolman Ed James spoke from the audience, stating the FOP used its money to pay the chief's attorneys. He said the money was taken from a fund set up to provide a youth center for the community. Hephner said that in other cases of this nature the costs had been paid.

BUSH presented Henthorne with a letter in answer to several questions he had posed at past meetings. Henthorne had the letter read.

Bush said that relative to a claim against the city by a Richard Smith, he was never supplied any facts on the claim. He said the city building at 12th St. has not been removed from the county tax duplicate, but that he is working on this. He explained he was not aware that an abstract had been ordered on the property, and then pointed out that this was not the work of a solicitor.

In regard to bids under question on city land along Little Yellow Creek for a boat marina, Bush said if the other bidder or bidders have not withdrawn their offer, the Board of Control could accept such a bid if it wants. He stressed this was the duty of the administration and not his.

Henthorne also had questioned about removal of junk cars along 2nd St. off Broadway. Bush said he has not been supplied any information on this. It could be an administrative or police problem if there is existing legislation covering the situation.

He said neither he nor anyone else could have given a legal opinion on questions unless the facts were placed before him and asked that in the future such facts be given him.

BUSH HAS been under fire for some time by Council, with the members claiming he was not fulfilling his duties.

At the end of the meeting, Henthorne commented that the Smith claim had been aired in Council sessions. He then said he was sorry that the information had not been provided the solicitor on the other matters and promised it would be "within the next week."

Council discussed the leasing of the city property for the boat marina. The members agreed to hold a special meeting Thursday night with the Board of Control to discuss the problem. The Board of Control announced last year its intent to give a contract to Charles Eichler of Salem, but no construction has started.

Council adopted legislation establishing a 40-hour work week for the floodwall and sewage disposal operator and then adopted another ordinance setting overtime pay at $2.50 an hour for the job.

COUNCIL ALSO adopted legislation reappropriating funds to provide for miscellaneous and incidentals in 13 different funds. The total appropriation was $1,625, with the largest figure $500 for overtime from the sewage disposal fund.

Councilman William Stoddard commented he had received a call from Rego Industries of Hoboken, N. J., denying reports that the firm had sold part of its franchise for construction of a community television system in East Liverpool and Wellsville. Representatives of the firm promised to be present at the next meeting, he said.

A letter was read from the Ohio Valley Gas Co. stating Wellsville's customers will receive a reduction of 5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas effective June 1 under the fuel cost regulations.

Officers, Various Chairmen Seated At MacDonald PTA

Officers and chairmen of the MacDonald Parent - Teacher Association for 1965-66 were installed during the final meeting of the school term Monday night in the all - purpose room of the Wellsville school.

A gift of appreciation was presented to Robert Madden, caretaker, by Mrs. Agnes Glover, outgoing president, "for his cooperation and dependable services."

Mrs. Glover announced that a change in the original plans to designate $150 for Reading Circle books would be necessary in order to not deplete the treasury. It was decided to give $100 for the books.

She and the attending members expressed concern over the meager attendance at the PTA meetings and a discussion followed. A questionnaire will be sent to parents for the October meeting asking suggestions in an effort to inspire larger attendance at future meetings. Mrs. Frances Santimarino gave the treasurer's report and Mrs. Boyd, co - chairman of the ways and means committee, reported a profit of $106.75 from candy sales.

Mrs. Arlene Mathess led devotions and the pledge of allegiance.

As program chairman, she introduced the Gay Nineties quartet of parents who sang five selections. It is comprised of Mrs. Louise Lawton, Mrs. Pat Sanko, Mrs. Jayne Kata and Mrs. Elizabeth McNicol. Refreshments were served.

Chester Council In Busy Session

Complaints of residents were heard, insurance for the city was discussed, committee reports were given and bids for the purchase of a new truck were opened during a busy session of Chester City Council Tuesday night at the chambers in City Hall.

Harold Crago of New Cumberland, a representative of the C & S Coal Co., which is undertaking strip-mining operations in Hancock County, was present to answer complaints made by Fairview Rd. residents during the last Council meeting of coal trucks running up over curbs and damaging property. Crago agreed to post notices explaining the situation to all truckers involved.

RESIDENTS OF Florida Ave. and Indiana Ave. complained to council of poor drainage in front of homes on those streets. The street department agreed to investigate.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, read a letter from the Insurance Company of North America listing conditions which must be met before insurance on the city building and other city property may be continued.

Repairs and additions to the second floor were the primary considerations mentioned. The letter stated that an alternate exit must be provided and that an emergency lighting system be installed, if use of the room on the second floor for large public gatherings continues.

Other necessary repairs and additions to City Hall, the sidewalks around the building and to other city property were listed. The letter stated that the improvements must be completed by June 15, when another inspection will be conducted.

IT WAS explained that the insurance provided by another company prior to Jan. 1 was revoked on that date because certain conditions had not been fulfilled. Council managed to acquire the present insurance coverage only on a temporary basis and at a much higher premium rate.

In order to meet the provisions outlined in the letter, Council voted to close the City Hall Auditorium to all public group meetings effective May 31 until the necessary modifications are completed. The groups principally affected by the closing will be the Hi-Teen and the Kiwanis Club.

Council passed a second motion to complete other repairs mentioned in the letter before June 15.

A proposed contract between C & S TV Co. of Chester and the City of Chester was read.

The contract would grant the company the right to install poles, cables, wires, towers and other necessary apparatus for setting up television reception, transmission and distribution facilities. The letter was taken under advisement for study by the city solicitor.

The bids follow: Mike Turk, Inc., of East Liverpool, $4,100; Wimmer Motor Sales of East Liverpool, $4,156; O. S. Hill & Co. of East Liverpool, $4,340; Mackall Motors, Inc., of East Liverpool, $4,542.20, and Temple Motor Co. of Chester, $4,689.50. The figures represent the full price less the trade-in allotment for the old truck.

The bids were taken under advisement. A special meeting will be held prior to the next council session May 18 to consider acceptance of a bid.

Revenues totaling $5,125 were ordered turned into the city treasury. Gas utilities of $2,838 and electric utilities of $1,472 constituted the largest receipts. Bills totaling $1,497 were ordered paid.

Unpublished Songs Written By Late Cole Porter Found

NEW YORK (AP) — Between 75 and 100 unpublished songs written by Cole Porter have been found in the late composer's files. The list includes such titles as "Bertie and Gertie," "Dizzy Baby," and "He Certainly Kills the Women."

Porter who died last October at the age of 72 was such a prolific songwriter that he often wrote two or three songs for the same stage situation.

Most of the unpublished songs were written for Porter's Broadway musicals but were never used. Some were for a motion picture that was not made.

Dr. Albert Sirmay, chief editor of Chappell & Co. music publishers, disclosed Tuesday night that he made the discoveries while looking into Porter's inventory of music material at the late composer's Waldorf Towers apartment last December, January and February.

Sirmay said that John Wharton, Porter's attorney for 20 years, had asked him to examine the material.

"They are in the style of Cole Porter, all fit for the stage," said Sirmay.

Wharton said that at the present he had no plans for the unpublished works except to find out more about them by sitting down and listening to them played and sung.

As for long-range possibilities, he said: "someone may offer to do a new show. They may be added to a revival or single songs recorded from them."

Wharton suggested that some might be used in a revue along the lines of a current off-Broadway hit entitled, "The Decline and Fall of the Entire World as Seen Through the Eyes of Cole Porter, Revisited." The show is composed of little-known, published Porter songs.

Porter wrote such hits as "Just One of Those Things," "Night and Day" and "Begin the Beguine."

The bids follow: Mike Turk, Inc., of East Liverpool, $4,100; Wimmer Motor Sales of East Liverpool, $4,156; O. S. Hill & Co. of East Liverpool, $4,340; Mackall Motors, Inc., of East Liverpool, $4,542.20, and Temple Motor Co. of Chester, $4,689.50. The figures represent the full price less the trade-in allotment for the old truck.

The bids were taken under advisement. A special meeting will be held prior to the next council session May 18 to consider acceptance of a bid.

Revenues totaling $5,125 were ordered turned into the city treasury. Gas utilities of $2,838 and electric utilities of $1,472 constituted the largest receipts. Bills totaling $1,497 were ordered paid.

Unpublished Songs Written By Late Cole Porter Found

NEW YORK (AP) — Between 75 and 100 unpublished songs written by Cole Porter have been found in the late composer's files. The list includes such titles as "Bertie and Gertie," "Dizzy Baby," and "He Certainly Kills the Women."

Porter who died last October at the age of 72 was such a prolific songwriter that he often wrote two or three songs for the same stage situation.

Most of the unpublished songs were written for Porter's Broadway musicals but were never used. Some were for a motion picture that was not made.

Dr. Albert Sirmay, chief editor of Chappell & Co. music publishers, disclosed Tuesday night that he made the discoveries while looking into Porter's inventory of music material at the late composer's Waldorf Towers apartment last December, January and February.

Sirmay said that John Wharton, Porter's attorney for 20 years, had asked him to examine the material.

"They are in the style of Cole Porter, all fit for the stage," said Sirmay.

Wharton said that at the present he had no plans for the unpublished works except to find out more about them by sitting down and listening to them played and sung.

As for long-range possibilities, he said: "someone may offer to do a new show. They may be added to a revival or single songs recorded from them."

Wharton suggested that some might be used in a revue along the lines of a current off-Broadway hit entitled, "The Decline and Fall of the Entire World as Seen Through the Eyes of Cole Porter, Revisited." The show is composed of little-known, published Porter songs.

Porter wrote such hits as "Just One of Those Things," "Night and Day" and "Begin the Beguine."

Applications Being Accepted For Enrollees In Job Corps

Applications are being accepted by the East Liverpool office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for those between 16 and 21 who desire to enroll in the Job Corps, Charles B. Boso, manager, said.

Boso said Mrs. Betty Calhoon and Mrs. Ilene Dobson are in charge of the local recruiting.

Those accepted in the Job Corps will receive basic education, job training and work experience.

They will receive room and board, clothing and $30 a month spending money. They also will get $50 for each month of satisfactory service in the Job Corps.

If a Corpsman desires, he can send home up to $25 a month and the Job Corps will send the same amount, with the balance being paid when he leaves the Job Corps.

Those assigned to conservation centers will do carpentry and forestry work, construct roads and blaze trails. They will improve their reading and writing abilities, learn how to handle employment interviews and develop other skills that will aid them in getting a job.

At urban centers, corpsmen will receive more specialized job training in such fields as auto mechanics, welding, machine tool operation, radio-TV repair, data processing machine operation and others.

Toss Of Coin To Decide Tie At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Mayor Robert Harding won renomination to a fourth term in Tuesday's Republican primary election which resulted in a tie vote for a Council nomination, to be decided by a toss of a coin.

Democrats had no contests and skipped the primary.

Harding, operator of a novelty ware concern, defeated Hugh Rambo, former police officer, by a 2-to-1 margin, according to complete but unofficial returns. The vote was:

Harding	522
Rambo	240

A toss of a coin is expected to decide the Second Ward GOP Council contest in which Halsey M. Allard and Richard D. Miller led with 77 votes each over John A. Davis and Gary Doran. The vote was:

Allard	77
Miller	77
Davis	40
Doran	27

Should the tie exist after the official canvass of the balloting later this week, the race would be settled by a coin toss arranged by election officials.

Frank L. Early won nomination to the Council president post over Charles W. Kelley in the only other party competition. The vote was:

Early	406
Kelley	348

For Mounting Costs In Viet Nam

Congress To Act Quickly On Johnson's Funds Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress moved quickly today to act on President Johnson's request for $700 million in emergency defense funds to meet mounting military costs in Viet Nam.

The House Appropriations Committee called a special meeting to clear the emergency bill for a House vote this afternoon. House passage was expected by a wide margin.

Prompt Senate passage also was expected.

Johnson was asked about the Viet Nam war Tuesday night during a walking news conference.

He said: "It's just something we've got and I don't know how to find the answer. I've tried everything I can."

He showed newsmen a letter on Viet Nam he had received from former President Dwight D. Eisenhower which said in part:

"I have consistently said (and shall continue to say) that, first, we should all understand that there is only one spokesman for America in conducting our foreign relations; the President of the United States. Secondly, I expressed the conviction that under the circumstances as I now understand them I believe that you are employing a policy well calculated to serve the best interests of the United States."

After his news conference, he addressed an audience of Texas rural electric cooperative officials. He told the officials "we are not about to flag or to fail" in the U.S. promise to help South Viet Nam preserve its freedom. He said 100 small nations are watching the struggle and "they know that if we are not successful there, they are next on the list."

In asking approval of the military fund increase Tuesday, Johnson put a squeeze on congressional critics of his Vietnamese policies. Behind his request there appeared to be the double-barreled objective:

—Of forcing these critics to vote "yes" or "no" on an authorization he linked directly to supplying the military sinews for the intensified conflict in Viet Nam.

—Of overturning by indirection the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's refusal in the foreign aid bill of an open-end authorization for military expenditures in Viet Nam. The committee headed by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., called this a "blank check."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., a committee member critical of the President's course in Southeast Asia, said colleagues had told him after a White House briefing that anybody who voted against the request for additional funds would be "accused of not voting to supply American fighting forces in Southeast Asia with sufficient funds with which to protect themselves with the necessary weapons for battle."

"This, of course, is not true," Morse said, "because more than adequate funds now already exist in the defense budget and by the President's own admission can be transferred by him to supply our fighting forces with whatever equipment they need."

Morse announced that he would vote against the fund authorization when the Senate takes it up under a five-hour debate limitation, probably Thursday.

Automatic Shift Urged

RENO (AP) — Husbands traditionally cringe when their wives and children grind the gears on the family auto. Reno City Vehicle Supt. Jess Stephens had somewhat the same problem with his "family."

He recommended the city begin using automatic transmissions in police patrol cars.

Canton Youths Cited For Housing Damage

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Police say 17 youths have been charged for doing $500 to $600 damage to a public housing project here on weekends since last August. Police Tuesday called the acts "brainless destruction" of furnishings and decorations at the project.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl who soon will be 15 and I'm looking forward to a lot of fun. I'm a pretty good dancer when I dance with my girl friends, but I just can't seem to dance with a boy.

I get all tensed up and I'm like paralyzd in the feet. Maybe it's beause I've always been the one to lead and I just can't follo.

I'm so scared I might step on a boy's foot that I break out in a cold sweat. Then my hands get clammy and I'm just a mess. Can you give me some hints on how to overcome this problem It could wreck my entire life. — OUT OF IT.

Dear It: You seem to have a couple of problems — clammy hands and two left feet. First, stop dancing with girls. You must become accustomed to FOLLOWING.

Second, hang loose. Before you take steps with a boy tell yourself you are going to relax. Pretend you are a rag doll. If the boy has no rhythm, just clomp along and follow him anyway.

Even the best dancers get their shins barked now and then. But what's a crushed toe between friends?

Work's Reward

Dear Ann Landers: I'm married to an "Ex-Horse," too, and have been for 40 years. My wife has done every bit of work women complain about in your column — and then some.

We lived on a farm just like "Ex-Horse." My wife looked after our four daughters, plus a hired man and me. She managed to cook, sew, clean, take care of the chores and be president of the PTA, the Legion Auxiliary, the Women's Club and everything else that came along.

When times got better I was able to hire the dairy work done. Then I made her stop doing the chores and the canning. Now she just looks after the flower beds.

And what kind of shape is she in? Well, next year she will be 70. Her figure is better than it was when I married her 40 years ago. Her hair has changed from red to sandy gray.

Wrinkles? She doesn't have any. She drives her station wagon all over the county and is the proud grandmother of 12 darling kids.

We travel a lot and my wife is often mistaken for my daughter (which is embarrassing, because I am three years younger than she is). As I put my crutches down to write this I'd like to make it plain that hard work never hurt anybody. — AN ADORING HUSBAND.

Dear Adoring Husband: Thanks for the cheerful testimonial endorsing hard work. I agree that hard work never hurt anybody (I thrive on it myself) but if you're going to work like a horse you'd better have a constitution to match.

Sick Sextet

Dear Ann: A girl in our office received a bouquet of flowers from her boy friend yesterday. She spent the entire morning trying to find a vase "big enough."

The way she carried on you'd have thought no one in the whole world ever had received flowers from a boy friend. It was a performance that would have put Bette Davis to shame.

Wasn't it in poor taste for him to have sent flowers to the office? Shouldn't the flowers have been sent to her home? We'd like your opinion. — NAUSEATED SIX.

Dear Six: My opinion (and I don't think you'll like it) is that you girls are nauseated from envy.

The fellow probably sent the flowers to the office because he wanted to give his girl an extra - special thrill — and apparently he succeeded. So retract your claws and get back to your typewriters.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Progress Report Marks Session Of Wellsville Group

A report on a cleanup campaign backed by the activity committee was heard at a meeting of the Greater Wellsville Association Monday night at City Hall Council Chambers.

The committee had owners of several empty storerooms clean windows and put in displays.

A discussion was held on participation in the annual Wellsville High School alumni dinner July 3. Merchants will be urged to trim their windows and fly pennants.

Arthur Montgomery, president, presided. The next meeting will be May 17 at 7:30 p. m. at City Hall.

Ruling Handed Down In Contributing Case

LISBON — An East Liverpool man received a six-month suspended jail sentence Monday from Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Wellsville girl.

Bill Cornell, 21, of the Thompson Hotel, pleaded guilty to having illegal relations with the girl after he had been cited by James Miller, juvenile probation officer.

Cornell was ordered to pay a $100 fine. The jail sentence was suspended on the condition that he not associate with any juveniles during his probation.

Note to new cooks: the easiest way to manage rolled cookie dough or pastry is to use a pastry cloth and a stockinet covered rolling pin. These kitchen accessories are well worth the small investment they call for.

Prizes Won At Salineville

Mr. and Mrs. David Orr and Mrs. June Culp won prizes for 500 during a public card party sponsored Saturday night at St. Patrick's Catholic Church parish hall in Salineville. Ten tables were in play.

Mrs. Grace Manning and Matthew Russell won euchre prizes. Lunch was served by Mrs. Emma Eish and her committee. Amother party is planned May 15.

Mrs. Nelle Smith was honored at a birthday dinner held for the family Sunday at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Smith.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and family of Beloit and Mrs. Nancy Smith and children of Canton. A large cake and candelabra centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rhodes and daughter, Regina, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mundy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney visited Sunday with Joseph Sweeney, hospitalized at Willoughby with a heart attack.

Mrs. Pauline Dehner of Chester visited here Saturday.

Commissioners Set Replacement Of Line For Gas

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday authorized the replacement of a 6-inch natural gas line on County Rd. 436, a half-mile east of County Rd. 435 and continuing east about 600 feet in Liverpool Township.

The line is being replaced because it lies in a drainage ditch of the County Rd.

In other business, the commissioners purchased an oil heater for the Rogers - Tobin honor camp home, north of Rogers; from R. P. Young, East Liverpool R. D. 1, for $1,433. Other bidders were Bush Heating, East Palestine, $1,642; Smith Heating, Wellsville, $1,795, and Schell Heating, East Liverpool, $1,987.

The city of Wellsville was given $54 from the kennel fund for 108 dogs destroyed last month.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Six Are Treated At City Hospital

A youth bitten by a dog and two boys hurt in falls from bicycles were among six area residents treated at City Hospital Monday.

Charles Buchheit, 19, son of Charles Buchheit of Substation, was treated last night for a wound on the right knee received when bitten by a friend's dog.

Troy Turner, 3, son of David Turner of New Cumberland R. D., was treated for a cut on the forehead after he fell against metal in the yard at home.

Clifford Clutter, 18, son of Clifford Clutter of 1715 Nevada St., Wellsville, was treated for a cut on the lip received in a struggle with another youth at Wellsville High School.

Want to make Hollandaise Sauce ahead? Get a wide-mouth vacuum jar and spoon the sauce into it; cork and close tightly and this temperamental sauce will stand up well for several hours. Never expect Hollandaise Sauce to be boiling hot even when it is served immediately after making.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: You once suggested a truly inspired gift for the new bride . . . a sort of "Housekeeping Starter Kit" (Dust cloths, scouring rags, light bulbs, etc.).

While excellent for the bride, it occurred to me, after some experience involving harassed trips to the hardware store, banging nails with shoe heels, prying open gift cartons with new kitchen utensils, etc., that —like his bride—the groom also could well use a "Starter Kit."

In each newly established household, there are innumerable tasks:

Curtain rods to hang, appliances to assemble, hooks to install, clothing poles to place, and many others.

Naturally, this list could easily be expanded according to the experience and means of the giver, but, oh, how handy are just the above items for the new bridegroom in the new household the first few weeks!

Thanks for your column, Heloise.

(JOHN) ALL THUMBS MURPHY.

And, thanks to you, John. And if a bride is smart (I Wasn't!) she'll pretend she doesn't know how to use any of the above while those stars are still in the bridegroom's eyes, eh?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I save the keys that are used to open coffee cans, etc., and we use them to put in the ends of corn on the cob for picnics and barbecues. They work just fine.

BETTY KARCHER.

DEAR HELOISE: Last year the beetles Japanese!! ate all the leaves off my beautiful astors and zinnias.

In making the flower arrangements around the house, I missed that little touch of gnawed leaves.

I promptly went to my vegetable garden and took the lovely green carrot tops to use in place of the leaves.

MRS. D. E. JAHNS.

And you know something else that is lovely? Asparagus ferns.

We never stay in one place long enough for an asparagus bed to start producing, but I used to plant one just to have the ferns for my flower arrangements.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I love those large basket-type purses for the summer, but mine was a source of irritation because my car keys were always working their way to the bottom.

After a couple of weeks of grouping and searching, I put a very small cup hook in the wooden side-panel (bottom part of wood), inside the purse.

DEAR HELOISE: I use a grocery cart — the type one uses to cart their own groceries from the store — for cook-outs.

I keep the charcoal and everything we use for the cook-out, in the cart, then when we are ready to cook, just throw in a lot of other things from the kitchen.

This is the ONLY way for people who don't have elaborate patios. That excuse of "It's too much trouble to carry out everything" is gone.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl who soon will be 15 and I'm looking forward to a lot of fun. I'm a pretty good dancer when I dance with my girl friends, but I just can't seem to dance with a boy.

I get all tensed up and I'm like paralyzed in the feet. Maybe it's because I've always been the one to lead and I just can't follow.

I'm so scared I might step on a boy's foot that I break out in a cold sweat. Then my hands get clammy and I'm just a mess. Can you give me some hints on how to overcome this problem? It could wreck my entire life. — OUT OF IT.

Dear It: You seem to have a couple of problems — clammy hands and two left feet. First, stop dancing with girls. You must become accustomed to FOLLOWING.

Second, hang loose. Before you take steps with a boy tell yourself you are going to relax. Pretend you are a rag doll. If the boy has no rhythm, just clomp along and follow him anyway.

Even the best dancers get their shins barked now and then. But what's a crushed toe between friends?

Work's Reward

Dear Ann Landers: I'm married to an "Ex-Horse," too, and have been for 40 years. My wife has done every bit of work women complain about in your column — and then some.

We lived on a farm just like "Ex-Horse." My wife looked after our four daughters, plus a hired man and me. She managed to cook, sew, clean, take care of the chores and be president of the PTA, the Legion Auxiliary, the Women's Club and everything else that came along.

When times got better I was able to hire the dairy work done. Then I made her stop doing the chores and the canning. Now she just looks after the flower beds.

And what kind of shape is she in? Well, next year she will be 70. Her figure is better than it was when I married her 40 years ago. Her hair has changed from red to sandy gray.

Wrinkles? She doesn't have any. She drives her station wagon all over the county and is the proud grandmother of 12 darling kids.

We travel a lot and my wife is often mistaken for my daughter (which is embarrassing, because I am three years younger than she is). As I put my crutches down to write this I'd like to make it plain that hard work never hurt anybody. — AN ADORING HUSBAND.

Dear Adoring Husband: Thanks for the cheerful testimonial endorsing hard work. I agree that hard work never hurt anybody (I thrive on it myself) but if you're going to work like a horse you'd better have a constitution to match.

Sick Sextet

Dear Ann: A girl in our office received a bouquet of flowers from her boy friend yesterday. She spent the entire morning trying to find a vase "big enough."

The way she carried on you'd have thought no one in the whole world ever had received flowers from a boy friend. It was a performance that would have put Bette Davis to shame.

Wasn't it in poor taste for him to have sent flowers to the office? Shouldn't the flowers have been sent to her home? We'd like your opinion. — NAUSEATED SIX.

Dear Six: My opinion (and I don't think you'll like it) is that you girls are nauseated from envy.

The fellow probably sent the flowers to the office because he wanted to give his girl an extra - special thrill — and apparently he succeeded. So retract your claws and get back to your typewriters.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Commissioners Set Replacement Of Line For Gas

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday authorized the replacement of a 6-inch natural gas line on County Rd. 436, a half-mile east of County Rd. 435 and continuing east about 600 feet in Liverpool Township.

The line is being replaced because it lies in a drainage ditch of the County Rd.

In other business, the commissioners purchased an oil heater for the Rogers - Tobin honor camp home, north of Rogers; from R. P. Young, East Liverpool R. D. 1, for $1,433. Other bidders were Bush Heating, East Palestine, $1,642; Smith Heating, Wellsville, $1,795, and Schell Heating, East Liverpool, $1,987.

The city of Wellsville was given $54 from the kennel fund for 108 dogs destroyed last month.

The commissioners' next meeting will be Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Progress Report Marks Session Of Wellsville Group

A report on a cleanup campaign backed by the activity committee was heard at a meeting of the Greater Wellsville Association Monday night at City Hall Council Chambers.

The committee had owners of several empty storerooms clean windows and put in displays.

A discussion was held on participation in the annual Wellsville High School alumni dinner July 3. Merchants will be urged to trim their windows and fly pennants.

Arthur Montgomery, president, presided. The next meeting will be May 17 at 7:30 p. m. at City Hall.

Six Are Treated At City Hospital

A youth bitten by a dog and two boys hurt in falls from bicycles were among six area residents treated at City Hospital Monday.

Charles Buchheit, 19, son of Charles Buchheit of Substation, was treated last night for a wound on the right knee received when bitten by a friend's dog.

Troy Turner, 3, son of David Turner of New Cumberland R. D., was treated for a cut on the forehead after he fell against metal in the yard at home.

Clifford Clutter, 18, son of Clifford Clutter of 1715 Nevada St., Wellsville, was treated for a cut on the lip received in a struggle with another youth at Wellsville High School.

Ruling Handed Down In Contributing Case

LISBON — An East Liverpool man received a six-month suspended jail sentence Monday from Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old Wellsville girl.

Bill Cornell, 21, of the Thompson Hotel, pleaded guilty to having illegal relations with the girl after he had been cited by James Miller, juvenile probation officer.

Cornell was ordered to pay a $100 fine. The jail sentence was suspended on the condition that he not associate with any juveniles during his probation.

Note to new cooks: the easiest way to manage rolled cookie dough or pastry is to use a pastry cloth and a stockinet covered rolling pin. These kitchen accessories are well worth the small investment they call for.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: You once suggested a truly inspired gift for the new bride . . . a sort of "Housekeeping Starter Kit" (Dust cloths, scouring rags, light bulbs, etc.).

While excellent for the bride, it occurred to me, after some experience involving harassed trips to the hardware store, banging nails with shoe heels, prying open gift cartons with new kitchen utensils, etc., that —like his bride—the groom also could well use a "Starter Kit."

In each newly established household, there are innumerable tasks:

Curtain rods to hang, appliances to assemble, hooks to install, clothing poles to place, and many others.

As it usually falls to the husband, apprentice or veteran, to handle these "Honey-do" chores, I submit the following groom as a needed companion bride:

Naturally, this list could easily be expanded according to the experience and means of the giver, but, oh, how handy are just the above items for the new bridegroom in the new household the first few weeks!

Thanks for your column, Heloise.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Teachers, even in schools of suburbs and suburbia, are distressed over the smelliness of some children, typically boys. These children haven't acquired good habits of cleanliness in relation to elimination. They may often wet or soil their clothes. I get numerous letters from mothers about such children. Usually the writer represents average, or above average, culture and education. Often the mother gives evidence that the reported youngster is not dull but of average or superior intelligence.

Dr. Garry Myers

Here is a sample letter: "We have a problem with our seven-year-old son. He is a very intelligent and mannerly youngster and reads a grade higher than his school level. He has a speech therapist each week for about one-half hour.

—:—

"HE HAS been taking this assistance for some time and now has mastered all his letters with the exception of Y. She has spoken to me various times and can't find a reason for his stuttering as she says he seems to be a very well-adjusted child. I have worked throughout his childhood and not because of advantages but of necessity.

"Billy messes his pants. If he is engrossed in TV, reading, playing a game he seems to try to wait until he doesn't have the time to make it. This happens quite frequently and I am at a loss as how to solve it. At first I just spoke to him and told him that the odor was very offensive to others and there could be no doubt as to what had hapened.

"It kept on, so I have spanked him, put him to bed, talked harshly to him but it continues to happen. Can you tell me how I should treat this and how I can help him?

"HE IS the youngest child and quite lonely as far as other boys his age go. The baby-sitter is wonderful, plays games with him but Billy does not play with other boys. He plays with them at school and on Saturday and Sunday if the weather permits.

"I play games with him, listen to his little stories and jokes, take him with me wherever I go. We go on outings, play miniature golf, to shows, etc. He is very interested in history and loves to read. My husband feels I'm too much worried about it."

My reply in part. I get a good many letters about children as old as yours who soil their clothes. It is good that he has special speech therapy and is improving; that he is so good a reader and that you parents try to have good times with him. Do try to attract some boys of his age to your home and to go with you all sometimes on your outings.

Encourage your son in the rough and tumble of outdoor fun. I hope Dad spends more time at fun with this boy and that both you parents show enthusiasm over his reading skills and interests.

IF I were you I would post a schedule for him to go the bathroom when he is home. Maybe he could acquire the habit of a bowel movement right after breakfast. Don't punish him for "accidents" but for failing to follow the schedule.

Put no trust in talk and exhortation. In order to impress on him the importance of cleanliness, it might be well to require him to take a daily bath.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," "Stuttering," and "Training Child in Toilet Habits," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

When a sauce contains cream, it is best to heat it to serving temperature without boiling. If flour thickens the sauce it should be brought to boiling (so the flour will cook) before the cream is added.

Keep In Trim

Morale Boosters For Struggling Dieters

For success in reducing inspiration is as necessary as information — if not more so. There is no better morale booster for struggling dieters than encouragement from other dieters. The first letter from a young Maine mother, written early in March, will make you want to swing into spring with exercises!

Ida Jean Kain

"After a long winter of eating and lunching I took a good look at myself. Overweight to begin with, I found I had added another 20 pounds by eating too much candy and too many TV snacks.

Realizing that summer isn't too far off, I set a goal — to slim down 36 pounds. I gave up between - meal snacks and candy completely. I eat three balanced meals a day.

"EVERY MORNING my four-year-old and I have a game of doing exercises, and we both enjoy this. I read your column to get exercise ideas. Here is a trick which works wonders for me and may help others: I set my near goal at just five pounds. It is more interesting and satisfying to lose in five pound lots.

"After just one month I have lost an inch from the bust, 1½ inches from the waist, and 1½ inches from the hips. I still have a long way to go, but I don't mind at all. It is really enjoyable. With my new eating pattern, by summer the pounds will have melted away!

"Knowing I will be able to take part in summer fun with my husband and children is worth every minute of my slimming effort. Daily the family encourages me. They are as excited as I am.

"To sum up my slimming progress: It's really a lot of fun! And what satisfaction to step on the scales and see the needle down another pound or two! I only wish I'd done this a long time ago."

She knows now that eating candy and snacks is largely habit, and she had the gumption to call a halt. Don't you just love her spirit!

Another young mother writes:

"EVEN BEFORE I was married I was overweight. . .5'2", 150 pounds. After I had the baby my weight soared to 200. My child has been in school several years now.

"Last fall I took action. I asked myself at which meal I overate, and decided to go without that meal — my supper. Also, I stopped eating sweets. I have diet soft drinks and use powdered skim milk.

"The first three weeks I lost a half pound a day, then I didn't lose so fast. I have lost over 40 pounds. I want to eat supper again, counting calories. Please send me a chart."

There's a wise dieter! She pinpointed the weak link in her eating pattern, and changed it. This perceptive, intelligent woman will stay slim. Cheer!

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Teachers, even in schools of suburbs and suburbia, are distressed over the smelliness of some children, typically boys. These children haven't acquired good habits of cleanliness in relation to elimination. They may often wet or soil their clothes. I get numerous letters from mothers about such children. Usually the writer represents average, or above average, culture and education. Often the mother gives evidence that the reported youngster is not dull but of average or superior intelligence.

Dr. Garry Myers

Here is a sample letter: "We have a problem with our seven-year-old son. He is a very intelligent and mannerly youngster and reads a grade higher than his school level. He has a speech therapist each week for about one-half hour.

—:—

"HE HAS been taking this assistance for some time and now has mastered all his letters with the exception of Y. She has spoken to me various times and can't find a reason for his stuttering as she says he seems to be a very well-adjusted child. I have worked throughout his childhood and not because of advantages but of necessity.

"Billy messes his pants. If he is engrossed in TV, reading, playing a game he seems to try to wait until he doesn't have the time to make it. This happens quite frequently and I am at a loss as how to solve it. At first I just spoke to him and told him that the odor was very offensive to others and there could be no doubt as to what had hapened.

"It kept on, so I have spanked him, put him to bed, talked harshly to him but it continues to happen. Can you tell me how I should treat this and how I can help him?

"HE IS the youngest child and quite lonely as far as other boys his age go. The baby-sitter is wonderful, plays games with him but Billy does not play with other boys. He plays with them at school and on Saturday and Sunday if the weather permits.

"I play games with him, listen to his little stories and jokes, take him with me wherever I go. We go on outings, play miniature golf, to shows, etc. He is very interested in history and loves to read. My husband feels I'm too much worried about it."

My reply in part. I get a good many letters about children as old as yours who soil their clothes. It is good that he has special speech therapy and is improving; that he is so good a reader and that you parents try to have good times with him. Do try to attract some boys of his age to your home and to go with you all sometimes on your outings.

Encourage your son in the rough and tumble of outdoor fun. I hope Dad spends more time at fun with this boy and that both you parents show enthusiasm over his reading skills and interests.

IF I were you I would post a schedule for him to go the bathroom when he is home. Maybe he could acquire the habit of a bowel movement right after breakfast. Don't punish him for "accidents" but for failing to follow the schedule.

Put no trust in talk and exhortation. In order to impress on him the importance of cleanliness, it might be well to require him to take a daily bath.

My bulletins, "Educating Your Child in Responsibility," "Stuttering," and "Training Child in Toilet Habits," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

When a sauce contains cream, it is best to heat it to serving temperature without boiling. If flour thickens the sauce it should be brought to boiling (so the flour will cook) before the cream is added.

Morale Boosters For Struggling Dieters

For success in reducing inspiration is as necessary as information — if not more so. There is no better morale booster for struggling dieters than encouragement from other dieters. The first letter from a young Maine mother, written early in March, will make you want to swing into spring with exercises!

Ida Jean Kain

"After a long winter of eating and lunching I took a good look at myself. Overweight to begin with, I found I had added another 20 pounds by eating too much candy and too many TV snacks.

Realizing that summer isn't too far off, I set a goal — to slim down 36 pounds. I gave up between - meal snacks and candy completely. I eat three balanced meals a day.

"EVERY MORNING my four-year-old and I have a game of doing exercises, and we both enjoy this. I read your column to get exercise ideas. Here is a trick which works wonders for me and may help others: I set my near goal at just five pounds. It is more interesting and satisfying to lose in five pound lots.

"After just one month I have lost an inch from the bust, 1½ inches from the waist, and 1½ inches from the hips. I still have a long way to go, but I don't mind at all. It is really enjoyable. With my new eating pattern, by summer the pounds will have melted away!

"Knowing I will be able to take part in summer fun with my husband and children is worth every minute of my slimming effort. Daily the family encourages me. They are as excited as I am.

"To sum up my slimming progress: It's really a lot of fun! And what satisfaction to step on the scales and see the needle down another pound or two! I only wish I'd done this a long time ago."

She knows now that eating candy and snacks is largely habit, and she had the gumption to call a halt. Don't you just love her spirit!

"EVEN BEFORE I was married I was overweight. . .5'2", 150 pounds. After I had the baby my weight soared to 200. My child has been in school several years now.

"Last fall I took action. I asked myself at which meal I overate, and decided to go without that meal — my supper. Also, I stopped eating sweets. I have diet soft drinks and use powdered skim milk.

"The first three weeks I lost a half pound a day, then I didn't lose so fast. I have lost over 40 pounds. I want to eat supper again, counting calories. Please send me a chart."

Many Murrow Eulogies Have Hollow Ring

From the extravagant Ed Murrow eulogies and praise spouted by the men in the broadcasting industry the last few days, one easily might get the impression that their good will toward Murrow must have helped him in his ascendency to the top of his profession.

Hal Humphrey

There was the time, for instance, when Murrow's "See It Now" crew had followed and filmed singer Marian Anderson in all of her dignity as she toured the Far East for our State Department.

AFTER MURROW and his producer, Fred Friendly, edited the film it was turned over to the CBS sales division.

In due time Murrow asked why Miss Anderson's documentary had not been scheduled, and he was told, "Ed, you know how these things are, with the South and Miss Anderson being a Negro and all," or words to that effect.

Murrow grabbed the film in one of the cold rages he sometimes could not fight down, and took it to the president of International Telephone & Telegraph, who was so impressed after a showing by Murrow that he not only agreed to sponsor the film, but also appeared on the telecast himself to tell why he felt it was important.

In December 1956, Murrow got an exclusive interview with Premier Chou En-lai in Red China. Not only did it go unsponsored, but CBS aired it on a Sunday night from 11:15 to midnight.

Murrow and Friendly had an idea they would like to do two segments of "See It Now" based on "The Ugly American," the Eugene Burdick and William Lederer best seller which their image abroad.

The rights to the book were arranged and Murrow had tacit approval for the project. A short time later, however, he was told by a top executive to "forget it."

IT WAS SOON after this added frustration that Murrow announced in February 1959 that he would take a year's leave of absence from the network beginning in July.

Before he returned from his world tour in the spring of 1960, Murrow began getting calls from some of the CBS brass. They were asking if he didn't want to do a series of documentaries for the coming season, "and not in the Sunday ghetto period, either," one of them said.

"I took this," Murrow said at the time, "as an indication that something had happened in my absence."

What had happened was Charles Van Doren's confession to accepting answers on a quiz show, and the forced resignation of Lou Cowan, president of CBS-TV, whose rise to fame resulted from his introduction of "The $64,000 Question" to TV and CBS.

TO STRAIGHTEN out their image, all three networks were trumpeting a new era in public affairs programs (in prime time, too) to begin in the fall of 1960. Murrow was welcomed back to CBS like a prophet with a 1000 batting average.

But he did not stay long. When President John F. Kennedy in January 1961 offered Murrow much less money and more work as head of the United States Information Agency, he took it.

Obviously Murrow must have felt his usefulness as a broadcaster in that commercial-ridden medium rapidly was diminishing, or that he could do more for his country through the USIA.

"I think there is no question that Ed Murrow died a sad and embittered man," said a colleague who had worked with Murrow for several years.

NEW CUMBERLAND — Oral arguments are scheduled today at 11:45 a. m. before Circuit Court Judge Ralph E. Pryor on a so - called "friendly suit" brought by two employes of the Home and the five - member board that governs the home, asking the court to determine the board's right to fix salaries for workers.

The action names as defendants the Hancock County Board of Commissioners. Atty. Callie Tsapsis said Monday the action brought by the members of the board and the employes is "a friendly one."

The action names as plaintiffs Miss Janet Wilson, a minor, through her father, Julian Wilson, and Arnold Anderson, employes, and Dick Wright, Ernest John, Norman Ferrari, Charles Padden and Charles Miller of the Home Board.

Miss Tsapis said the court will be asked to determine the Home Board's authority to set salaries for its employes. She said state law outlines the powers of the board and the commissioners, but does not define duties or authority clearly.

The commissioners and the Home Board have disagreed in recent months on salaries to be paid Miss Wilson and Anderson, a former Hancock County assessor.

In the last term of the West Virginia Legislature, three representatives of the board of trustees sought to have laws changed so the agency would have greater authority in administering the home.

U.S., British Fight Throws Discord Into 'Beat' Music

NEW YORK (AP) — Bar the Beatles? Turn Herman's Hermits into real hermits? Restrict the Animals? Stop the Rolling Stones?

A transatlantic dispute between the British Musicians Union and the American Federation of Musicians over British groups taking extra engagements while in the United States and thus putting American performers out of jobs has thrown the beat music scene into discord.

The result may be to bar various British groups from the United States. American bands would be barred from making British tours.

"They can't do this," protested Bonnie Lou Vorbeck, 16, of Charleston, W.Va. "It must be illegal or something. If the Beatles can't come here and our singers can't go there, then I don't think any diplomats or ambassadors ought to be visiting back and forth either."

As it stands now, the two unions have scrapped their hard-won "treaty" governing exchantes of pop music performers, and will allow no more exchanges once current contracts have been honored.

Harry Francis, a spokesman for the British Musicians Union, said talks are going on between the two unions and promoters and they hope to get the treaty working again.

Meanwhile, fans of the Beatles, the Animals, and the Dave Clark Five can relax. The American tour planned for the Beatles this fall will go on as scheduled because the contracts already are signed. The Dave Clark Five and the Animals have contracts for U.S. appearances and these will be carried through as planned.

Electronic Gadgets To Aid Moon Landing

The instruments will consist of five numerical digits displayed on a 2 by 4-inch flat surface. The numbers will indicate changes in the speed at which the moon craft is traveling.

Electroluminescence creates light through the excitation of phosphors in an electrical field. No bulbs or filaments are used in construction and, unlike electro-mechanical instruments, they are not affected by irregular gravity fields.

Sylvania, which has been a pioneer in development of electroluminescence, has been awarded a contract for the instruments by Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp., which is developing the moon ship.

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungarian children have been urged to help rid the country of mice —a major pest which is threatening this year's harvest.

The antimouse drive was ordered by the Hungarian Ministry of Agriculture. The entire rural population — children included — have been asked to take part.

Hungary's considerable mouse population caused several hundred million dollars damage to the agriculture last year, deputy agriculture minister Janos Keseru said in an article in the Hungarian Communist Party daily Nepszabadsag recently.

'Chain' Crash Injures Four

Four persons were injured, none seriously, when a Greyhound Bus struck an auto in the rear on E. 3rd St. Tuesday afternoon and shoved it forward into another car, police reported.

The collision at 1:14 near Broadway involved a 1963 four-door sedan driven by Miss Janet Louise Kirbaugh, 20, of 2204 Ohio Ave.; a 1957 two-door sedan operated by Larry Rush, 42, of 6th St., Newell, and a Greyhound Bus driven by William G. Budd, 59, of Pittsburgh, officers said.

Released after treatment at City Hospital were: Miss Kirbaugh, who was X-rayed for a possible neck injury; a friend riding in her car, Mrs. Anna Jackson 80, of Geraldine's Rest Home on Thompson Pl., also X-rayed for a neck injury; Rush, who complained of injuries about the neck and lower back, and Dewey Vanich, 45, of Coraopolis, a passenger in the Rush auto, who suffered contusions of the left side of the neck and lower back.

Police said the Kirbaugh and Rush cars were halted when the Newell man's car was struck from the rear and shoved forward into the local woman's vehicle.

Miss Kirbaugh said she was traveling east on E. 3rd St. when an unidentified driver ahead of her stopped suddenly, then made a left turn into an alley. Rush said he halted behind the Kirbaugh car, then his car was hit from the rear and shoved into the local woman's auto.

The bus driver said he had just made a turn off Broadway onto E. 3rd St. when a car stopped suddenly in front of him. All three drivers agreed that the unidentified vehicle which stopped and then made a left turn was a contributory factor in the collision, police reported.

Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Orin C. Smith investigated. The collision damaged the rear of the Kirbaugh car and both the rear and the front of the Rush vehicle, officers said. The bus, owned by Greyhound Lines, Inc., of Cleveland, was undamaged, officers said.

Easy Meat Loaf Stretches Food Dollars

When the lady in charge of the food dollar wants to stretch it farthest, what meat does she usually choose?

Another change of style for ground beef comes in the form of individual servings when the meat mixture is baked in medium-sized muffin pans.

Meat loaf is actually an economy "roast" since it's cooked in the oven, uncovered, without water or other liquid added after it's readied for the oven.

Easy Meat Loaf

½ cup grated carrots
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chopped onion, if desired
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Combine ground beef, carrots, seasonings, Worcestershire sauce, onion and beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Pack in loaf pan, ring mold or muffin pans. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) Allow 1½ hours for loaf baked in a 1-quart ring mold; 1½ hours for loaf baked in a 9 x 5-inch loaf pan and 45 minutes for individual servings baked in medium-sized muffin pans. 8 servings.

U.S. Stands Firm In U.N. On Dominican Crisis Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States stood firm in the United Nations today in the face of growing pressure for a speedy withdrawal of U.S. forces from the Dominican Republic.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to reply in the Security Council this afternoon to a sharp attack by Uruguay and to a French call for a rapid end to U.S. military intervention in the Latin-American country.

But Stevenson made clear Tuesday that the United States intends to maintain its forces in the Dominican Republic until the Organization of American States has worked out plans to guarantee order under a constitutional government.

Cuban delegate Fernando Alvarez Tabio commented that this was a formula for indefinite U.S. intervention.

One of the hardest blows for the United States was the toughness of a denunciation by Uruguyan delegate Carlos Maria Velazquez. He declared that what he called the new "Johnson doctrine" was contrary to the traditional inter-American policy of nonintervention.

He suggested the Security Council might issue a formal call for a cease-fire and an immediate end to unilateral military action in the Dominican Republic.

Uruguay is one of the two Latin-American members of the 11-nation council. The other is Bolivia, which backed the U.S. view that the Dominican problem should be handled by the OAS and not by the United Nations.

Bolivian delegate Fernando Ortiz Sanz, sugested, however, that Security Council President Radhakrishna Ramani of Malaysia be authorized to appeal to the Dominican factions to take all possible measures to obtain a cease-fire.

French Ambassador Roger Seydoux voiced the hope "that an end will rapidly be put to the presence in the island of the troops that have landed there."

He said there had been no detailed explanation to show the need for an armed intervention on such a scale, even though it was understandable that the United States may have had concern for its citizens caught in the strife.

The British, as expected, lined up solidly behind the United States and the OAS.

Man, 52, With Cancer Released From Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Calvin Moore, 52, convicted of slaying his common-law wife in 1944, was released from Ohio Penitentiary because he is in "imminent danger of death."

Moore has cancer. A release signed Tuesday by Gov. James A. Rhodes directs that he be returned to prison, where he was serving a life term for the Cleveland slaying, if he regains his health.

Man's Trial Continued In Alleged KKK Link

CINCINNATI (AP)—Clarence Brandenburg, 49, will not have to stand trial until late fall on charges stemming from his alleged attendance at a Ku Klux Klan meeting here last summer.

Common Pleas Judge Charles E. Weber granted Brandenburg's request Tuesday for a continuance because, the judge said, of intense feeling against the Klan at the present time.

Marines, Jets And Artillery Smash At Viet Cong Complex

LE MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine infantrymen, jet warplanes and artillery worked over this Viet Cong village complex southwest of Da Nang Tuesday in the Marines' biggest offensive operation so far in South Viet Nam.

Pickings were lean. One Viet Cong was killed during the day-long search through the area. Three more Viet Cong snipers may have been wounded, and two sampans loaded with men were sunk in the Ca Be River by Marine Phantom supersonic fighter-bombers.

"This was the most frustrating day of my life," said a young Marine lieutenant after the day-long chase of guerrillas who shot from trenches and foxholes, then melted into the underbrush as the charging Marines neared.

"We will have to stay out there much longer to really clean that place out," said Capt. Peter Yadlowsky of Jersey City, N.J.

Marine tracked vehicles carrying six 106mm recoilless cannon and four 50-caliber machine guns were out for the first time in combat. Five of them moved in a column with six Marine medium tanks as a blocking force. They saw no action.

"Why did it have to be me?" the wounded Leatherneck shouted in pain. A medical corpsman bandaged his wound. The corpsman, Frank O. Saddler of St. Louis, Mo., grabbed the wounded Marine's rifle and ran off, saying "I may be needed some place else."

Alcoholism In Red Bulgaria Increasing

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Alcoholism, especially among young people, is increasing in Communist Bulgaria, the party paper Rabotnichesko Delo reported.

The paper did not disclose figures, but said that more than 3,000 alcoholics had to be taken to hospitals in Sofia in the last two years.

Rabotnichesko Delo demanded closure of some of the bars and the help of police "to prevent that our youth falls prey to alcoholism."

New City Hall Turned Green Around Eaves

RENO (AP) — The new city hall turned a little green around the eaves. They wanted it that way.

"Copper has a richness to it that no other metal has," Wells said. "And once it's installed, nobody has to do anything to it. It's there for keeps."

'Chain' Crash Injures Four

Four persons were injured, none seriously, when a Greyhound Bus struck an auto in the rear on E. 3rd St. Tuesday afternoon and shoved it forward into another car, police reported.

The collision at 1:14 near Broadway involved a 1963 four-door sedan driven by Miss Janet Louise Kirbaugh, 20, of 2204 Ohio Ave.; a 1957 two-door sedan operated by Larry Rush, 42, of 6th St., Newell, and a Greyhound Bus driven by William G. Budd, 59, of Pittsburgh, officers said.

Released after treatment at City Hospital were: Miss Kirbaugh, who was X-rayed for a possible neck injury; a friend riding in her car, Mrs. Anna Jackson 80, of Geraldine's Rest Home on Thompson Pl., also X-rayed for a neck injury; Rush, who complained of injuries about the neck and lower back, and Dewey Vanich, 45, of Coraopolis, a passenger in the Rush auto, who suffered contusions of the left side of the neck and lower back.

Police said the Kirbaugh and Rush cars were halted when the Newell man's car was struck from the rear and shoved forward into the local woman's vehicle.

Miss Kirbaugh said she was traveling east on E. 3rd St. when an unidentified driver ahead of her stopped suddenly, then made a left turn into an alley. Rush said he halted behind the Kirbaugh car, then his car was hit from the rear and shoved into the local woman's auto.

The bus driver said he had just made a turn off Broadway onto E. 3rd St. when a car stopped suddenly in front of him. All three drivers agreed that the unidentified vehicle which stopped and then made a left turn was a contributory factor in the collision, police reported.

Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Orin C. Smith investigated. The collision damaged the rear of the Kirbaugh car and both the rear and the front of the Rush vehicle, officers said. The bus, owned by Greyhound Lines, Inc., of Cleveland, was undamaged, officers said.

Easy Meat Loaf Stretches Food Dollars

When the lady in charge of the food dollar wants to stretch it farthest, what meat does she usually choose?

The most versatile of meats can come to the table in many different shapes. What about a meat ring instead of a loaf just for variety?

Another change of style for ground beef comes in the form of individual servings when the meat mixture is baked in medium-sized muffin pans.

Meat loaf is actually an economy "roast" since it's cooked in the oven, uncovered, without water or other liquid added after it's readied for the oven.

Easy Meat Loaf

2 pounds ground beef
½ cup grated carrots
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chopped onion, if desired
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Combine ground beef, carrots, seasonings, Worcestershire sauce, onion and beaten eggs. Mix thoroughly. Pack in loaf pan, ring mold or muffin pans. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) Allow 1½ hours for loaf baked in a 1-quart ring mold; 1½ hours for loaf baked in a 9 x 5-inch loaf pan and 45 minutes for individual servings baked in medium-sized muffin pans. 8 servings.

U.S. Stands Firm In U.N. On Dominican Crisis Move

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States stood firm in the United Nations today in the face of growing pressure for a speedy withdrawal of U.S. forces from the Dominican Republic.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson was expected to reply in the Security Council this afternoon to a sharp attack by Uruguay and to a French call for a rapid end to U.S. military intervention in the Latin-American country.

But Stevenson made clear Tuesday that the United States intends to maintain its forces in the Dominican Republic until the Organization of American States has worked out plans to guarantee order under a constitutional government.

Cuban delegate Fernando Alvarez Tabio commented that this was a formula for indefinite U.S. intervention.

One of the hardest blows for the United States was the toughness of a denunciation by Uruguyan delegate Carlos Maria Velazquez. He declared that what he called the new "Johnson doctrine" was contrary to the traditional inter-American policy of nonintervention.

He suggested the Security Council might issue a formal call for a cease-fire and an immediate end to unilateral military action in the Dominican Republic.

Uruguay is one of the two Latin-American members of the 11-nation council. The other is Bolivia, which backed the U.S. view that the Dominican problem should be handled by the OAS and not by the United Nations.

KKK Lawyer Plans Attack On FBI Story

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan attorney promised today to disprove an FBI undercover agent's story which named a young Klansman as the killer of a white civil rights worker.

The heavily guarded FBI informer, Gary Thomas Rowe, a Klan member, was called back to the witness stand to face intensive cross-examination by defense attorney Matt H. Murphy Jr. who had called him a liar.

Rowe, escorted to and from the courtroom by federal agents, testified in state court Tuesday that Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, fired two pistol shots at close range into the car in which Viola Liuzzo was slain the night of March 25.

Wilkins, a heavy-set, crew-cut auto mechanic from Fairfield, Ala., near Birmingham, is the first of three Klansmen brought to trial on first-degree murder indictments.

After Rowe left the stand, Murphy, the Klan attorney representing Wilkins, commented angrily to newsmen that Rowe had "told a G-- d— lie and I'll prove it tomorrow."

Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, the mother of five and the wife of a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death while shuttling other marchers back to Selma following the civil rights march to Montgomery in which she, too, had taken part. A young Negro riding in the front seat with her escaped injury.

Rowe, a husky former Birmingham barroom operator, now unemployed, told the 12-man jury he saw young Wilkins, on the back seat of a car beside him, fire two shots into Mrs. Liuzzo's car on a lonely stretch of U.S. 80 near Lowndesboro.

Driving the Klansmen's car as it pulled alongside the Liuzzo automobile, the witness said, was Eugene Thomas, 42, of Bessemer. Seated next to Thomas was William Orville Eaton, 41, also of Bessemer. Thomas and Eaton also are under murder indictment and awaiting trial.

Eaton also opened fire with a 22-caliber pistol, Rowe said. But a state toxicologist, Dr. Paul Shoffeitt, who removed the death bullet from the victim's brain, had testified it was a 38-caliber slug which killed her.

Rowe said he had been a paid undercover agent for the FBI for five years. He and his colleagues first noticed Mrs. Liuzzo and her Negro companion, he said, while waiting at a traffic light in Selma and followed their car for some 25 miles before finally overtaking it.

Police Probing Case Of Mayor's Abduction

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police are investigating the case of a missing Ohio mayor who walked into police headquarters Tuesday and told officers two men abducted him and brought him here.

Mayor Merrill Games, 35, of Brookville, near Dayton, had been reported missing since Monday after he failed to keep a business appointment. He said the two men picked him up in Brookville, forced him into his car, drove him here and threw him out.

Patrolman Pleads Innocent To Bribery

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Patrolman Raymond J. Uzell has pleaded innocent in Common Pleas Court to charges of soliciting and accepting a $100 bribe.

Uzell, 32, was released on $200 bond pending trial. He was indicted by the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury last week and charged with seeking the bribe to influence his judgment in a traffic accident, April 16.

Found In Ohio River

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The body of a man missing for several weeks after a fishing accident was found Tuesday in the Ohio River near Coal Grove, three miles east of here.

Coal Grove police identified him as Robert E. Dunfee, 31, of LeSage, W. Va.

2 Bull's-Eyes Scored In Voting Predictions

Frank R. O'Hanlon, veteran Election Board clerk, scored two bull's - eyes in predicting well in advance the total votes that would be cast in the primary elections Tuesday in East Liverpool and Columbiana County.

PREDICTING THE county-wide vote was particularly tricky because it was the first time in many years that all precinct polling places were in operation for an off-year primary. With four state issues and two county proposals at stake, there was voting in every precinct.

The off - year primary generally sees polling in only a few scattered communities, plus a subdivision or two with local issues to settle.

Compared with the last five municipal primaries, East Liverpool's turnout yesterday was higher than only one, lower than the other four.

DESPITE THE unusually complicated job for a primary, the Election Board's staff had compiled all the thousands of figures and added up the totals by about 11 p. m. Tuesday. The report sheets were complete and most of the staff and the extra helpers had headed homeward by 11:30.

Last community to report was Lisbon, which telephoned its returns to the board shortly after 11. East Liverpool's returns, covering 34 precincts, were entered on the charts and added by 10:30.

The board made its traditional "flash" count on the East Liverpool mayoralty races shortly after the polls closed. Results from all 34 precincts were complete at 8:14, just 44 minutes after the polls closed.

Precinct staffs counted the returns on the mayoralty races as soon as the polls closed, then telephoned the figures to the Election Board, which kept a cumulative total. First precinct to report in the flash count was 1-F, which telephoned its figures at 7:32 — two minutes after voting ended.

O'HANLON commented that all the returns were "handled very smoothly" and the election and the tabulation of the results proceeded with "no trouble at all."

The board will meet in its office on W. 6th St. Thursday morning to begin the official canvass of returns, a task that probably will be completed by Friday.

The figures announced last night are complete, but unofficial. The official canvass produces the figures which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

With the vote tied in an East Palestine race, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, election board chairman, may wind up flipping a coin to settle the contest if the count is confirmed in the official canvass.

Ties are rare, but not unknown, in election results. State law provides that if a tie exists after the official canvass the chairman shall break the deadlock "by lot." In Columbiana County, the toss of a coin generally is used as the tie - breaker, with both candidates present.

Long Illness Fatal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Maj. S. Howe, 78, who helped develop a system of producing a germ flour that could not turn rancid, died Tuesday after a long illness.

Senators Eye End Of Vote Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders will try to end debate on the voting rights bill next week.

The speedup maneuver was announced Tuesday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen. They have been as close as Siamese twins in handling the legislation.

If Mansfield and Dirksen get two-thirds of the Senate to go along, each senator will be limited to an hour's speaking time on the bill and its amendments.

A complaint was registered immediately by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who is standing in for the ailing Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., as tactician for Southern senators.

Ellender charged the leaders with "bad grace" and said the current version of the measure has been under debate only two days. Ellender said he and other senators haven't spoken about it yet.

Mansfield and Dirksen will file their cloture — debate-limiting — petition Monday. Under Senate rules it will come to a vote next Wednesday, an hour after the Senate meets.

Before making their cloture announcement, Mansfield and Dirksen tried to obtain a unanimous-consent agreement to limit debate on two major amendments to four hours each, on other amendments to two hours each, and on the bill itself to six hours.

Floods Pass Danger Point

By The Associated Press

The worst of the Mississippi River floods — the roughest in history — appeared beyond the danger point today, but the long, costly task of repair and recovery is just beginning.

One example was the town of Gulfport, Ill. Only the tops of roofs and trees protruded from the swirling waters. The 250 residents evacuated before the flood struck the community.

In Quincy, Ill., the Red Cross distributed the first of thousands of cleanup kits to residents who weathered a 24.3-foot crest Tuesday. The kits include mops, brooms, hoses, soap and disinfectant.

In Hannibal, Mo., the Mississippi began receding slowly after cresting at 24.4-feet. Readings of 24.3 in Hannibal and 24.1 in Quincy were reported late Tuesday night. Army Engineers predicted the drop would be slow and would depend in a large degree on any rain.

Upriver in Rock Island, Ill., where the river crested at 22.5 feet April 28, the level had decreased a little more than two feet.

More than 2,500 persons have been sheltered by the Red Cross in six states since the floods began. Thousands of others moved in with friends and relatives.

Nun Agrees To 'Cooling-Off' Period In Fight With Church

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — A determined Roman Catholic nun has agreed to a cooling-off period in her battle against a Church order to close her beloved animal shelter while negotiations on the subject continue.

For six days, doughty 76-year-old Mother Cecilia Mary had defied an order to close the Good Shepherd shelter she and five other sisters operate.

As the deadline for the Church order passed Tuesday, Mother Cecilia's nuns and the 120 animals were still at the shelter.

When it was all over Tuesday night, the Most Rev. Remi De Roo, bishop of the Victoria diocese said everyone involved in the dispute had agreed to a "cooling-off period."

"The issues here have become completely distorted," said the bishop. "Obviously no rational solution can be reached so long as emotions are this high.

"Therefore, everyone has agreed, including Mother Cecilia, that a cooling off period, or a period of calm or a truce or whatever you want to call it, is needed while the negotiations continue."

Bishop De Roo said he was involved in conferences on the subject of Mother Cecilia's animal shelter "until well past what should have been time for my supper."

The furor started when a Vatican representative, the Rev. Andrew Keber of Mission City, B.C., assigned to investigate Mother Cecilia's shelter, ordered the nuns to close the shelter and return to St. Mary's Priory, a home for the aged three miles away. Mother Cecilia is the priory's mother superior.

KKK Lawyer Plans Attack On FBI Story

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan attorney promised today to disprove an FBI undercover agent's story which named a young Klansman as the killer of a white civil rights worker.

The heavily guarded FBI informer, Gary Thomas Rowe, a Klan member, was called back to the witness stand to face intensive cross-examination by defense attorney Matt H. Murphy Jr. who had called him a liar.

Rowe, escorted to and from the courtroom by federal agents, testified in state court Tuesday that Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., 21, fired two pistol shots at close range into the car in which Viola Liuzzo was slain the night of March 25.

Wilkins, a heavy-set, crew-cut auto mechanic from Fairfield, Ala., near Birmingham, is the first of three Klansmen brought to trial on first-degree murder indictments.

After Rowe left the stand, Murphy, the Klan attorney representing Wilkins, commented angrily to newsmen that Rowe had "told a G-- d— lie and I'll prove it tomorrow."

Mrs. Liuzzo, 39, the mother of five and the wife of a Teamsters Union official, was shot to death while shuttling other marchers back to Selma following the civil rights march to Montgomery in which she, too, had taken part. A young Negro riding in the front seat with her escaped injury.

Rowe, a husky former Birmingham barroom operator, now unemployed, told the 12-man jury he saw young Wilkins, on the back seat of a car beside him, fire two shots into Mrs. Liuzzo's car on a lonely stretch of U.S. 80 near Lowndesboro.

Driving the Klansmen's car as it pulled alongside the Liuzzo automobile, the witness said, was Eugene Thomas, 42, of Bessemer. Seated next to Thomas was William Orville Eaton, 41, also of Bessemer. Thomas and Eaton also are under murder indictment and awaiting trial.

Eaton also opened fire with a 22-caliber pistol, Rowe said. But a state toxicologist, Dr. Paul Shoffeitt, who removed the death bullet from the victim's brain, had testified it was a 38-caliber slug which killed her.

Rowe said he had been a paid undercover agent for the FBI for five years. He and his colleagues first noticed Mrs. Liuzzo and her Negro companion, he said, while waiting at a traffic light in Selma and followed their car for some 25 miles before finally overtaking it.

Police Probing Case Of Mayor's Abduction

MAYSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Police are investigating the case of a missing Ohio mayor who walked into police headquarters Tuesday and told officers two men abducted him and brought him here.

Mayor Merrill Games, 35, of Brookville, near Dayton, had been reported missing since Monday after he failed to keep a business appointment. He said the two men picked him up in Brookville, forced him into his car, drove him here and threw him out.

2 Bull's-Eyes Scored In Voting Predictions

Frank R. O'Hanlon, veteran Election Board clerk, scored two bull's - eyes in predicting well in advance the total votes that would be cast in the primary elections Tuesday in East Liverpool and Columbiana County.

O'Hanlon forecast 3,500 votes in East Liverpool. The complete, unofficial tabulation showed 3,575 — off by just 75.

His pre - election estimate called for 17,000 votes in the county's 165 precincts. The actual count was 16,517, off by 483.

PREDICTING THE county-wide vote was particularly tricky because it was the first time in many years that all precinct polling places were in operation for an off-year primary. With four state issues and two county proposals at stake, there was voting in every precinct.

The off - year primary generally sees polling in only a few scattered communities, plus a subdivision or two with local issues to settle.

Compared with the last five municipal primaries, East Liverpool's turnout yesterday was higher than only one, lower than the other four.

DESPITE THE unusually complicated job for a primary, the Election Board's staff had compiled all the thousands of figures and added up the totals by about 11 p. m. Tuesday. The report sheets were complete and most of the staff and the extra helpers had headed homeward by 11:30.

Last community to report was Lisbon, which telephoned its returns to the board shortly after 11. East Liverpool's returns, covering 34 precincts, were entered on the charts and added by 10:30.

The board made its traditional "flash" count on the East Liverpool mayoralty races shortly after the polls closed. Results from all 34 precincts were complete at 8:14, just 44 minutes after the polls closed.

Precinct staffs counted the returns on the mayoralty races as soon as the polls closed, then telephoned the figures to the Election Board, which kept a cumulative total. First precinct to report in the flash count was 1-F, which telephoned its figures at 7:32 — two minutes after voting ended.

O'HANLON commented that all the returns were "handled very smoothly" and the election and the tabulation of the results proceeded with "no trouble at all."

The board will meet in its office on W. 6th St. Thursday morning to begin the official canvass of returns, a task that probably will be completed by Friday.

The figures announced last night are complete, but unofficial. The official canvass produces the figures which are certified to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

With the vote tied in an East Palestine race, Carl L. Stacey of Columbiana, election board chairman, may wind up flipping a coin to settle the contest if the count is confirmed in the official canvass.

Ties are rare, but not unknown, in election results. State law provides that if a tie exists after the official canvass the chairman shall break the deadlock "by lot." In Columbiana County, the toss of a coin generally is used as the tie - breaker, with both candidates present.

Senators Eye End Of Vote Bill Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders will try to end debate on the voting rights bill next week.

The speedup maneuver was announced Tuesday by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen. They have been as close as Siamese twins in handling the legislation.

If Mansfield and Dirksen get two-thirds of the Senate to go along, each senator will be limited to an hour's speaking time on the bill and its amendments.

A complaint was registered immediately by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who is standing in for the ailing Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., as tactician for Southern senators.

Ellender charged the leaders with "bad grace" and said the current version of the measure has been under debate only two days. Ellender said he and other senators haven't spoken about it yet.

Mansfield and Dirksen will file their cloture — debate-limiting — petition Monday. Under Senate rules it will come to a vote next Wednesday, an hour after the Senate meets.

Before making their cloture announcement, Mansfield and Dirksen tried to obtain a unanimous-consent agreement to limit debate on two major amendments to four hours each, on other amendments to two hours each, and on the bill itself to six hours.

Floods Pass Danger Point

By The Associated Press

The worst of the Mississippi River floods — the roughest in history — appeared beyond the danger point today, but the long, costly task of repair and recovery is just beginning.

One example was the town of Gulfport, Ill. Only the tops of roofs and trees protruded from the swirling waters. The 250 residents evacuated before the flood struck the community.

In Quincy, Ill., the Red Cross distributed the first of thousands of cleanup kits to residents who weathered a 24.3-foot crest Tuesday. The kits include mops, brooms, hoses, soap and disinfectant.

In Hannibal, Mo., the Mississippi began receding slowly after cresting at 24.4-feet. Readings of 24.3 in Hannibal and 24.1 in Quincy were reported late Tuesday night. Army Engineers predicted the drop would be slow and would depend in a large degree on any rain.

Upriver in Rock Island, Ill., where the river crested at 22.5 feet April 28, the level had decreased a little more than two feet.

More than 2,500 persons have been sheltered by the Red Cross in six states since the floods began. Thousands of others moved in with friends and relatives.

Nun Agrees To 'Cooling-Off' Period In Fight With Church

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — A determined Roman Catholic nun has agreed to a cooling-off period in her battle against a Church order to close her beloved animal shelter while negotiations on the subject continue.

For six days, doughty 76-year-old Mother Cecilia Mary had defied an order to close the Good Shepherd shelter she and five other sisters operate.

As the deadline for the Church order passed Tuesday, Mother Cecilia's nuns and the 120 animals were still at the shelter.

Mother Cecilia was with Church officials in a negotiating session.

When it was all over Tuesday night, the Most Rev. Remi De Roo, bishop of the Victoria diocese said everyone involved in the dispute had agreed to a "cooling-off period."

Rotary Hears Discussion Of Water, Sewage System

The proposed Columbiana County Water and Sewage District was discussed by R. Max Gard, Columbiana County commissioner, at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Gard outlined the need for the countywide system and briefly sketched the steps which have been taken to date to establish it.

Also commenting briefly on the system and its progress were William McKenna, George Bloomgren and Sharon Quigley.

Gard, who will be named as agent for the new district, said the commissioners have filed for a $6,000 loan to cover the preliminary surveys for the system.

He said action on the request probably will be delayed until the old Southeast Water and Sewage District in St. Clair Township is dissolved and the new district takes on its assets and obligations.

Plans call for the county to be subdivided into eight areas for purposes of planning and construction, he said.

The old Southeastern district was stymied in its actions, he said, because, after planning, they found they could not legally issue bonds to finance it.

Gard said that in the long run, participating in the water and sewage district would be cheaper for householders than maintaining their own systems, and more sanitary. He pointed out that any area in the county would be accepted if they desire to join.

He cited as benefits for the system the elimination of possible health hazards, due to odors and various pollutions caused by septic tanks, and the possible incentive for new industries to locate in the county.

He said some industries had decided against locating in the area because of tracts of lands that were available did not offer immediate water and sewage facilities.

Bloomgren remarked that the distribution systems of the facilities will be constructed in the most heavily - populated area and that the water would be purchased from East Liverpool. The system would, however, he said, have its own sewage operation.

He also summarized briefly various methods for financing the project.

Quigley, the county nuisance inspector, told of discussions with officials of the Mahoning County Sanitary District on planning and legislative steps in establishinng such a system and making it functional.

He explained this preliminary study could help lessen the costs and time needed to establish the system.

Directors Upset By Telephoning

TULLAHOMA, Tenn. (AP) — Directors of the Tullahoma Chamber of Commerce have protested to Southern Bell Telephone Co. because the City's person-to-person long distance calls go through nearby Shelbyville.

The directors are unhappy because of what happens when a Tullahoma caller can't get his party in the distant city and must leave word.

The operator says, "Call operator so-and-so in Shelbyville and ask for Tullahoma..."

Industrialist Charles Folk says that makes Tullahoma "look like a very small town way out in the sticks" to someone a long way off.

"We should combat the effect which is developing to make Tullahoma s suburb of Shelbyville," Folk said.

It all started when Southern Bell moved the operators and switchboards to Shelbyville, where their functions were centralized with the advent of Direct Distance Dialing in the lower Middle Tennessee area last February.

Cracked Upper Plate But Kept On Reading

LONDON (AP) — Within minutes listeners were calling the British Broadcasting Company wanting to know "what has gone wrong with the newsreader?"

BBC radio news announcer Michael Brooke, 60, had just begun to read the 10:30 p. m. news when his upper plate cracked. Undeterred by this dental mishap he carried on reading, although his voice seemed strangely muffled.

"For no apparent reason," Brooke said later, "the top set of false teeth cracked just as I was about to read. It was terribly embarrassing but I carried on as best I could."

Brooke, who has been a news announcer for 25 years, stuck the upper plate together with sticky tape and was able to read the 11:30 p.m. news without difficulty. There were no complaints.

The next morning he went to the dentist.

For the first time since Delaware Park opened for thoroughbred racing in 1937 the Stanton, Del., track this year will have nine races on Saturdays and holidays during its 55-day meeting.

BBC radio news announcer Michael Brooke, 60, had just begun to read the 10:30 p. m. news when his upper plate cracked. Undeterred by this dental mishap he carried on reading, although his voice seemed strangely muffled.

"For no apparent reason," Brooke said later, "the top set of false teeth cracked just as I was about to read. It was terribly embarrassing but I carried on as best I could."

Brooke, who has been a news announcer for 25 years, stuck the upper plate together with sticky tape and was able to read the 11:30 p.m. news without difficulty. There were no complaints.

The next morning he went to the dentist.

For the first time since Delaware Park opened for thoroughbred racing in 1937 the Stanton, Del., track this year will have nine races on Saturdays and holidays during its 55-day meeting.

VOLKSWAGEN

1965 used, has 4276 miles, just like new and still carries unused new car warranty. Drive a Volkswagen and save $ $ $, in every way every day. For instance no antifreeze, it's air cooled at 30° below zero. After your Volkswagen has been standing out all night it starts immediately. Can't boil (no water) air cooled. Gas station attendants would be lonely people if every one owned a Volkswagen for they will run up to 400 miles on a tank full of gas or up to 42 miles per gallon on regular and use no oil between changes. Holds only 5 3/10 pints of the best oil, no throw away filter at $3.25 just thoroughly cleaned and replaced. Up to 100,000 miles on tires if properly inflated and rotated. Low, low upkeep, no water pump, no universal joints, drive shaft, etc. or ½ the parts of the V-8 such as 4 cylinder 4 stroke rear engine, only 4 spark plugs, oilless generator, oil bath air cleaner, no throw away, only clean and replace. Why don't you take advantage of a car with little or no obsolescence, just constant improvements, 1965 Volkswagen has a heater, radio, turn signals, dual padded sun visors, hand grip windshield washer, increased vision all around by 15%, new wiper system, bigger brake cylinder means less pressure on pedal. steering system is sealed. Requires no lubrication, new heater controls and bigger heater, warms up quicker when engine is cold. Sun visor can be pivoted from side to side, back seat passenger has more leg room, also back seat folds down to give you 17.7 cubic foot luggage compartment big enough for a couple of trunks. Many, many more improvements since 1952 at no extra $ $ $ to you. Think of it and what hasn't gone sky high since 1952. Not Volkswagen still only $1595 P.O.E. and all for no money down on any model. Just good credit, up to 48 months if you qualify. It operates for a penny a mile. Just compare anywhere dollar for dollar and you get so much more for so little. If you can afford $1.00 per day you cannot afford not to own a Volkswagen (definition THE PEOPLE'S CAR). Ask yourself why you own a costly car when a Volkswagen does it so economically and resale is so very very high and on some cars have so much depreciation in one year it would pay for a Volkswagen. Stop and ask the man or woman who owns one or your neighbor how he likes his Volkswagen and how much it costs to operate. Then come in and see one of our most courteous salesmen and make his prove it. Ride it — Drive it — and see for yourself the greatest surprise you have had since TV, at

VOLKSWAGEN

1965 used, has 4276 miles, just like new and still carries unused new car warranty. Drive a Volkswagen and save $ $ $, in every way every day. For instance no antifreeze, it's air cooled at 30° below zero. After your Volkswagen has been standing out all night it starts immediately. Can't boil (no water) air cooled. Gas station attendants would be lonely people if every one owned a Volkswagen for they will run up to 400 miles on a tank full of gas or up to 42 miles per gallon on regular and use no oil between changes. Holds only 5 3/10 pints of the best oil, no throw away filter at $3.25 just thoroughly cleaned and replaced. Up to 100,000 miles on tires if properly inflated and rotated. Low, low upkeep, no water pump, no universal joints, drive shaft, etc. or ½ the parts of the V-8 such as 4 cylinder 4 stroke rear engine, only 4 spark plugs, oilless generator, oil bath air cleaner, no throw away, only clean and replace. Why don't you take advantage of a car with little or no obsolescence, just constant improvements, 1965 Volkswagen has a heater, radio, turn signals, dual padded sun visors, hand grip windshield washer, increased vision all around by 15%, new wiper system, bigger brake cylinder means less pressure on pedal, steering system is sealed. Requires no lubrication, new heater controls and bigger heater, warms up quicker when engine is cold. Sun visor can be pivoted from side to side, back seat passenger has more leg room, also back seat folds down to give you 17.7 cubic foot luggage compartment big enough for a couple of trunks. Many, many more improvements since 1952 at no extra $ $ $ to you. Think of it and what hasn't gone sky high since 1952. Not Volkswagen still only $1595 P.O.E. and all for no money down on any model. Just good credit, up to 48 months if you qualify. It operates for a penny a mile. Just compare anywhere dollar for dollar and you get so much more for so little. If you can afford $1.00 per day you cannot afford not to own a Volkswagen (definition THE PEOPLE'S CAR). Ask yourself why you own a costly car when a Volkswagen does it so economically and resale is so very very high and on some cars have so much depreciation in one year it would pay for a Volkswagen. Stop and ask the man or woman who owns one or your neighbor how he likes his Volkswagen and how much it costs to operate. Then come in and see one of our most courteous salesmen and make his prove it. Ride it — Drive it — and see for yourself the greatest surprise you have had since TV, at

Today is Wednesday, May 5, the 125th day of 1965. There are 240 days left in the year.

In 1847, the American Medical Association was organized.

In 1862, the Department of Agriculture was established; it was given Cabinet status in 1889.

In 1925, the Scopes evolution trial began in Dayton, Tenn.

Junior Editors Quiz on CALEDONIA

QUESTION: Why is Scotland sometimes called Caledonia?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: By the time of Christ, the Roman Empire was rapidly expanding. Pressing northward from France (Gaul), the Romans seized England in 43 A.D. and by 82 A.D. had attacked what is now Scotland. People were living there who painted or tattooed their skins, and these the Romans called Picts after the Latin "pictor" or painter. The Romans vanquished the Picts in battle but they did not stay long to exploit their control; instead, they moved toward the south and built "Hadrian's Wall" to prevent the Picts from interfering with the more prosperous Roman colonies in England. While in the northerly posts, the Romans had found a district called Caledonia, and they adopted this name to speak of the country north of Britain. It was especially used by their writers and poets. Later, after a tribe called "Scots" landed in Caledonia from northern Ireland, the country, became Scotland; but the older name Caledonia remained and is still used when speaking of Scotland in a poetic or legendary way. The way Scotsmen venerate their romantic past with its colorful costumes is shown in our picture of Scotsmen gathered to dance and play national games. Far off, an athlete tosses the caber, a heavy pole.

Council Eyes Dust Catcher In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Plans to obtain estimates for an electronic dust arrester at the municipal power plant were approved by Council Monday night.

Council also authorized $2,000 from the parking meter fund be used for the purchase of two synchronized traffic signals for Market St. to operate in conjunction with the automatic gates now being installed at the Market St. crossing by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In other action, Council authorized advertising for bids for blacktop material for the summer street repair and maintenance and bids for gasoline for city vehicles.

Safety - Service Director George McGuckin said the John Blosco Coal Co. has been awarded the contract for supplying coal for the city. Blosco's bid had been $3.94, compared with the low bidder, Burns Co. at $3.80. However, McGuckin explained, Burns delivered coal one day and it was found unsuitable for use at the power plant, so the board of control awarded the contract to the next lowest bidder.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. employe was killed Tuesday when he came in contact with a 132,000 volt line. He was Larry Schweinefus, 30, of Covington, Ky.

Police Arrest 6 In Civil Rights Riot At College

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police on foot and on motorcycles charged a crowd of civil rights demonstrators and bystanders Tuesday night at all-white Girard College, reportedly injuring two girls.

They arrested six persons, all Negroes, in the action, which took place after the antisegregation picketing of the school, which had gone on during four consecutive days, was called off for the night.

Hahnemann Hospital reported it treated Henrietta Dixon, 15, for a contusion of the left knee, and Carol Palmer, 15, for abrasions of both legs, and released both girls. A hospital spokesman said the girls were brought in by police, who said they had been struck by motorcycles.

Pickets, led by the NAACP, have been demonstrating at Girard College since last Saturday in opposition to its white-only admission policy. That policy, written into the will of its founder, financier Stephen Girard, in 1848, was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1958.

Board OK's Budget For South Beaver

An operating budget of $611,929 for the 1965-66 school term was tentatively approved at a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Board of Education Monday night.

Other figures show $18,980 for administration, $8,005 for health, $63,119 for transportation, $44,050 for operations, $11,040 for maintenance, $22,860 for fixed charges and $7,200 for capital outlay.

A special meeting of the board has been set for May 17 for further discussions on the budget.

Bids received for general supplies and industrial arts supplies were referred to committee for further study. They will be awarded later.

The board authorized members of the custodial staff to attend a Beaver County School Maintenance Supervisors Association workshop at New Brighton on June 24-25.

The technical drawing classes of Andrew Dulick were granted permission to tour the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. at Midland on May 6, and the Latin Clubs of Mrs. Katherine Bender were granted a request to attend the state convention in Munhall, Pa., May 8.

Fred Milanovich, H. Wilson Denny, Miss Anne Wehner and Mrs. Marie Elliott were named as chaperones for the Senior Class trip to the World's Fair May 14.

David McKenzie, president, was in charge.

New Attempt Slated To Launch Spacecraft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Another attempt was planned today to launch a Project Fire spacecraft over a blazing ballistic course to measure the heat which will envelop manned Apollo ships returning from the moon.

The launching of the Atlas booster rocket was scheduled in a favorable seven-hour period starting at 5:21 p.m. The shot was postponed Tuesday because of 50 per cent cloud cover over the South Atlantic re-entry area.

Strike To Continue

CLEVELAND (AP)—A strike will continue at the Buckeye Forging Co. with rejection of a three-year contract offer. Members of the United Steelworkers union turned the pact down Tuesday night. The 150-member local struck April 1, when the old contract expired.

Council Eyes Dust Catcher In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Plans to obtain estimates for an electronic dust arrester at the municipal power plant were approved by Council Monday night.

The action was taken as the result of complaints from a number of area residents about fly ash from the power plant.

Council also authorized $2,000 from the parking meter fund be used for the purchase of two synchronized traffic signals for Market St. to operate in conjunction with the automatic gates now being installed at the Market St. crossing by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.

In other action, Council authorized advertising for bids for blacktop material for the summer street repair and maintenance and bids for gasoline for city vehicles.

Safety - Service Director George McGuckin said the John Blosco Coal Co. has been awarded the contract for supplying coal for the city. Blosco's bid had been $3.94, compared with the low bidder, Burns Co. at $3.80. However, McGuckin explained, Burns delivered coal one day and it was found unsuitable for use at the power plant, so the board of control awarded the contract to the next lowest bidder.

Police Arrest 6 In Civil Rights Riot At College

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police on foot and on motorcycles charged a crowd of civil rights demonstrators and bystanders Tuesday night at all-white Girard College, reportedly injuring two girls.

They arrested six persons, all Negroes, in the action, which took place after the antisegregation picketing of the school, which had gone on during four consecutive days, was called off for the night.

Hahnemann Hospital reported it treated Henrietta Dixon, 15, for a contusion of the left knee, and Carol Palmer, 15, for abrasions of both legs, and released both girls. A hospital spokesman said the girls were brought in by police, who said they had been struck by motorcycles.

Pickets, led by the NAACP, have been demonstrating at Girard College since last Saturday in opposition to its white-only admission policy. That policy, written into the will of its founder, financier Stephen Girard, in 1848, was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1958.

Board OK's Budget For South Beaver

An operating budget of $611,929 for the 1965-66 school term was tentatively approved at a meeting of the Southern Beaver County Board of Education Monday night.

Other figures show $18,980 for administration, $8,005 for health, $63,119 for transportation, $44,050 for operations, $11,040 for maintenance, $22,860 for fixed charges and $7,200 for capital outlay.

A special meeting of the board has been set for May 17 for further discussions on the budget.

A contract for fuel oil was awarded to Petroleum Solvents of Butler for 9.95 cents per gallon.

Bids received for general supplies and industrial arts supplies were referred to committee for further study. They will be awarded later.

The board authorized members of the custodial staff to attend a Beaver County School Maintenance Supervisors Association workshop at New Brighton on June 24-25.

The technical drawing classes of Andrew Dulick were granted permission to tour the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. at Midland on May 6, and the Latin Clubs of Mrs. Katherine Bender were granted a request to attend the state convention in Munhall, Pa., May 8.

Fred Milanovich, H. Wilson Denny, Miss Anne Wehner and Mrs. Marie Elliott were named as chaperones for the Senior Class trip to the World's Fair May 14.

David McKenzie, president, was in charge.
